Midland Meets Monarch

Stainless Steel Crosses Given King Peter

Midland opened its arms to an exiled king Wednesday and the small and dapper monarch found sympathy for his oppressed people as he met persons from all walks of life during his whirlwind visit to the community, home of many residents who can trace their national origins to the Slavic country he ruled until World War II.

King Peter II, who fled Yugoslavia when the Germans invaded in 1941, told Midland Serbians at a program at the Serbian National Home last night they were "well representative" of his people.

He extended thanks to them from himself and from "those people still suffering at home." The Communists took over the country after the war.

A HIGH light of the public program following a private dinner at 7 at the National home, George M. Burrier, manager of the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co., presented the king a stainless steel Serbian cross about 10 inches high and three smaller crosses on chains for the king, his wife, Queen Alexandria, and his 13-year-old son, Alexander.

The base of the large cross was

Emergency SUB Clause Is Defeated

Democrats In Ohio Senate Suffer Loss; Regular Bill Passes

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Senate Democrats and Ohio labor leaders still were smarting today from an unexpected and embarrassing defeat at the hands of the Republicans on the supplemental unemployment benefits bill. (SUB).

Democrats and labor leaders were hanging their hopes on an emergency clause on a bill to permit simultaneous payment of SUB and state jobless benefits. They needed two Republican votes for the two-thirds vote necessary to pass the measure as an emergency. They got only one.

Only an emergency clause attached to the bill when it emerges from the Legislature would prevent a referendum—a direct vote of the people—on the issue. Emergency bills are not subject to referendum, but regular bills are.

It was almost anti - climactic, after a two-hour debate, when the Senate passed the SUB measure as a regular bill by a 24-9 vote, and sent it to the House. The Senate lineup is 20 Democrats, 13 Republicans.

Only Republican to support the emergency section was Sen. Ross Pepple of Lima who observed: "I don't think the opponents of this bill have any intention of taking it to the people. I think it is a cruel thing they are doing—trying to keep the money in SUB funds away from the people who need it for another 90 days."

Republicans insisted they were not acting out of partisanship. Minority Leader C. Stanley Mechem (R-Athens) said it had not been made a partisan issue. No party caucus was held, he said.

The possibility remained that the House, which will consider the controversial measure next, will re - insert the emergency clause. If the House does that, there is a possibility Sen. Charles A. Mosher (R-Lorain) may vote for it. He raised the possibility in a prepared statement before the Senate debate began.

Senate Majority Leader Frank W. King appeared to lose his temper a bit after the emergency section was defeated. He declared as he pounded his desk:

"What you have just done is

NEW JUVENILE HOME. This East Palestine home of the well-known Kyes family has been donated to Columbiana County for use as a juvenile receiving home by Roger M. Kyes of Detroit as a memorial to his parents. The East Palestine Kiwanis Club was instrumental in the move to obtain the building.

Kyes Property Given County

Home Is Donated For Juvenile Use

The 13-room former home of the prominent Kyes family of East Palestine has been donated to Columbiana County for use as a juvenile receiving home, it was announced today.

Roger M. Kyes of Detroit donated the structure as a memorial to his late parents, Lafayette M. and Myra E. Kyes, both of pioneer families in the East Palestine and Rogers area. Lafayette M. Kyes was a prominent attorney for some 50 years.

The two-story frame home at 465 N. Market St., at the corner of Grant St., in East Palestine will be used as receiving home for neglected children for periods of not more than a month.

The boys' and girls' committee of the East Palestine Kiwanis Club began a move for utilizing the home in December, following defeat of a proposed $125,000 bond issue in the November election which was to be used to construct such a receiving home.

The County Commissioners have accepted the home following completion of the transaction which took about a month. The home will be owned by the county for the use by the Juvenile Court and Welfare Department.

Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin, in expressing appreciation of the Kiwanis Club's work, said today, "The home will be used exclusively to house neglected children for a period not to exceed 30 days or a time sufficient to permit the court to make proper disposition of these children."

"At no time," he said, "will it be used as a detention home for delinquent children. Our facilities at the county jail will be used to detain delinquent children."

About 90 days of remodeling and other changes are slated for the 40-year-old building. A state fire marshal is to visit it to outline needed improvements to meet with fire regulations.

One stipulation in the gift from Kyes, a vice president of General Motors and a former deputy director of the Defense Department under the first Eisenhower administration, concerns future disposition of the home.

If the county obtains or builds another receiving home, proceeds from the sale of the East Pales-

Diner And Station Here Among Spots That Were Entered

Two East Liverpool youths held in the County Jail have confessed to 11 burglaries of service stations, restaurants and taverns in four counties including two here, Sheriff Russell J. VanFossan said today at Lisbon.

He identified the suspects as Gary Risher, 19, of 451 Ray St. and his 17-year-old companion, who resides on W. 6th St. The investigation that solved the burglaries in Columbiana, Hancock, Beaver and Jefferson Counties was touched off early Tuesday when the pair was halted in an auto on Route 30 near Lisbon and deputies found them armed with a gun and a knife.

The burglaries the two have admitted include three in Columbiana County, one in Jefferson County, three in Hancock County and four in Beaver County.

They are: An entry at Hillberry's Restaurant on Route 30 south of Lisbon Jan. 21 in which $78 in cash and some cigars were taken.

Burglary of the Midway Diner on the River Rd. here Jan. 9 in which coins were taken from rifled cigarette and music machines and baked goods and meat were stolen.

The entry of McLaughlin's Service Station on Dresden Ave. Jan. 22 in which the loot totaled approximately $100, including funds taken from a rifled cash register.

A burglary at the Mountaineer Inn on Route 30 near Chester in which $40 in cash and a quantity of whisky were taken.

An entry at the home of American Legion Post 163 in Lawrenceville, near Chester, in which the loot included $30 and a quantity of whisky and cigarettes.

A burglary at Mickey's Inn on Route 68 at Ohio View — midway between Midland and Beaver — in which $40 and some whisky were taken.

The burglary of a gasoline station on Midland Heights, in which only 50 cents was stolen.

Two burglaries at Ken Miller's Super-Service Station on Route 68 at Smiths Ferry — one in which about $50 was taken and another in which the loot was $10 and some cigarettes.

A burglary Feb. 3 at the Bolton Service Station in Empire, in which they obtained $4 in change and some cigarettes and cigars.

VanFossan said the pair also related that they entered a service

Man Admits To Kidnaping And Robbery

Case Of Wellsville Motorist On Jan. 31 Cleared With Arrest

A 21-year-old man arrested by East Liverpool police and sheriff's officers has confessed the kidnap-robbery of a Wellsville motorist Jan. 31.

The suspect was identified as Dale Allen Barnhart, 21, of 762 Woodlawn Ave., who was arraigned Wednesday before County Judge James L. MacDonald at Lisbon on a charge he took about $38 at gunpoint from Paul K. Welch, 509 Aten Ave., Wellsville, the motorist who picked up Barnhart and another hitch-hiker on W. 8th St.

Barnhart's preliminary hearing is scheduled Friday before Judge MacDonald. He pleaded not guilty at arraignment yesterday and bond was fixed at $2,000.

Police Chief Americo Radeschi said Barnhart gave a statement at Lisbon to East Liverpool police and sheriff's deputies admitting that he and another suspect who still is sought were responsible for the robbery of Welch.

Welch was forced to drive to the Lake Marwin vicinity on Radio Heights, where the gunmen took his wallet. Then they forced him to drive to near West Point via the Y. & O. Rd. and Route 30. The forced ride ended when the men ordered Welch to drive back to East Liverpool, where they got out of the car at Dresden Ave. and Webber Way.

In his statement, Barnhart said he and the other suspect then walked to a restaurant on the Diamond, where they had a cup of coffee and divided the loot. Barnhart said he was given about $18 as his share.

Barnhart told authorities it was the other man who pulled the gun on Welch. He said he and his companion were headed for Wellsville, intending to burglarize an auto agency there, but after Welch picked them up the second man decided upon a holdup of their benefactor.

Chief Radeschi said Barnhart was taken into custody on E. 5th St. by local police and sheriff's deputies. He is being held in the County Jail.

25 Are Hurt As Passenger Train Derails

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — A Washington-to-New York Pennsylvania Railroad passenger train, traveling an estimated 70 to 80 miles an hour, derailed about 10 miles east of Baltimore today. A score or more persons were taken to hospitals. No one was reported killed.

Six of the 25 or so taken to Johns Hopkins and city hospitals were reported seriously injured. Two heart attack cases also were hospitalized.

A Baltimore County policeman said the rails apparently spread, dropping the speeding train, the Potomac, onto the ties.

The engine and the first seven cars rumbled and rolled up the track between the rails for several hundred yards. The last three cars broke off and stopped. None of the cars overturned.

Ties and rock ballast were tossed high and scattered down the right-of-way, blocking three of the four main line tracks.

One passenger, Henry G. Gardiner of Philadelphia, said he was in the car next to the dining car.

He said an attendant, the only other person in the car, yelled: "Hold your seat, something's going to happen."

"The car started rocking and swaying and bumping," Gardiner said, "then stuff began flying out of the pantry of the dining car ahead, going all over the place."

He was tossed to the floor of the car but said he suffered only a very minor leg bruise.

Police estimated that 300 passengers were on the train, which left Washington at 7 a.m., and Baltimore at 7:43 a.m. Its next scheduled stop was at Wilmington, Del.

Julia Niziolek, who lives in the small community of Middle River, where the wreck occurred, said she was inside her home when the train derailed.

She said the house shook and "there was a lot of noise." She ran out and helped some of the injured out of the cars.

Others Begin Mopping Up

Fremont, Newark Remain Only Flood Trouble Spots

By The Associated Press

The flooding Sandusky River eased back toward its banks in Fremont today. And other Ohio communities, hit by floods for the second time in three weeks, began mopping up.

Fremont and Newark, which lost much of its water supply when a dam on the Licking River burst, were the only trouble spots remaining.

Gov. Michael V. DiSalle visited Newark Wednesday night and promised to help the city of 35,000 in "any way we could."

Unlike the wide spread January floods, the latest high water was centered in northern Ohio. Fortunately, damage was expected to be well below the estimated 96 million dollars done in January. And the known death toll was three compared with 15 in the first round of floods.

An ice jam north of Fremont caused the Sandusky River to back up, putting nearly two feet of water into downtown streets. About 1,500 persons in the northwest Ohio city of 16,000 were forced to evacuate.

Despite dynamiting by a National Guard demolition team, the ice jam remained. Ice blasted free floated down the river into yet another jam.

But the river level was falling.

The Sandusky was pretty well back in its banks in downtown Fremont this morning. There was no water flowing through Front street. The big job now was cleaning up the ice and mud.

South of Fremont fears diminished that an ice pack at Ballville Dam would break. If the pack should give way, more water would be sent cascading down into the city.

Floods were receding in other northern Ohio communities—Warren, Findlay, Van Wert, Paulding and Ottawa.

In Findlay, cakes of ice, some 30-feet long and two to five feet thick, covered streets on the east end of town.

The state of emergency that had been declared was officially lifted by Findlay Mayor William Carlin at 10:30 Wednesday night.

At Newark, the city's pumping station was knocked out when the Licking River swept through a damaged dike.

It will take a week to repair the dam. Schools and industry will remain closed. A Newark firm, which has its own source of water, is pumping into the city system providing less than half the normal supply at below-normal pressure.

During his visit, the governor ordered State Highway Department equipment to add to this supply. Auxiliary pumps, drawing water from wells and other facilities, were hooked to regular city mains.

"We've asked Dr. (Ralph) Dwork, our (state) director of health, to have people available to make certain that the water supply will be free from contamination," DiSalle said.

The situation in other areas around the state:

Warren—The Mahoning River was receding after cresting Wednesday at 13½ feet, almost four feet above flood stage. For the second time in three weeks residents in the flats area—some 800 of them—were forced to evacuate their homes.

Defiance—An ice jam in the Maumee River was causing minor flooding. Officials said, however, there was no serious flood threat.

Eisenhowers To Join Queen In Seaway Rites

WASHINGTON (AP) — President and Mrs. Eisenhower will join Queen Elizabeth in Canadian ceremonies opening the St. Lawrence Seaway.

The White House said Wednesday night the Eisenhowers will fly to Montreal June 26 for the ceremonies near there at St. Lambert Lock.

The Eisenhowers will join the Queen and Prince Philip aboard the royal yacht Britannia at Montreal. They probably will fly back to Washington immediately after the ceremonies.

River Crests Short Of Flood

31.3 Feet Reached; Milder Weather Due

The Ohio River barely missed flood stage when it crested at 31.3 feet about 9 Wednesday night and today the stream was receding at an accelerated rate.

Dam 8 at Newell said the river had dropped to 29.8 feet at 7 a. m. and was going down three to four tenths of a foot hourly.

There was no damage from the high water. Flood stage here is 32 feet. The flood of Jan. 22-23 reached 40.6 feet.

Meanwhile, milder weather was forecast for the Tri-State District with a high of 38 to 42 expected today and a low tonight of only 28 to 32 degrees, just around the freezing mark. The high yesterday afternoon was 29 degrees.

The mercury plunged to a frigid 20 degrees at 1 a. m. today, remaining there until 7, then it started climbing as a beaming sun appeared.

Friday will be mild but there may be occasional showers.

Pickets Still March

Wheatley Disputes Firm's Statement In Ware Strike

While a work stoppage continued today at the Homer Laughlin China Co., idling about 1,500 workers, E. L. Wheatley, president of the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters, today disputed the facts behind the case as set forth Wednesday in a statement issued by Joseph M. Wells, secretary-treasurer of Laughlin's.

Wheatley asserted that officials of the IBOP "do not agree with statements made in the Review regarding the making of any agreement or settlement during any session held with company representatives discussing this dispute."

He declared that the only thing in the Wells' statement with which he will agree is the fact that the idleness of 1,500 employes is costing them approximately $20,000 a day in wages.

"If you break that down, it averages out to about $1.33 an hour," he declared.

The IBOP also announced today that six members of the Executive Board at a meeting Tuesday "went on record publicly denouncing all illegal strikes and lockouts."

The dispute erupted Feb. 5 when women gold stampers put picket lines at the plant entrances which other employes refused to cross. The company statement yesterday said the grievance resulted over a question of whether gold stampers or underglaze decorators should operate a new underglaze stamping machine.

The pickets marched again this morning in front of the plant entrances and the company said its production was down to a virtual zero because few employes were on the job.

An estimated 700 crowded into the IBOP auditorium last night for a mass meeting of Lauglin's employes to hear an explanation of the background of the dispute from Wheatley. IBOP officials said it was the largest crowd ever gathered in the auditorium.

Officials of Local Union 124, with which the gold stampers are affiliated, said the meeting was

Youth Dodges Truck, Slides Into Cemetery

A 16-year-old driver's auto skidded onto the grounds of St. Aloysius Cemetery about 8:10 this morning, damaging a hedge, breaking a vase and defacing a tombstone, when the boy attempted to dodge a collision with a truck, police reported.

Marion Lee Perkins, 16, of the Westfield Rd. told police he swerved his 1953 two-door on Lisbon St. to avoid a crash with a truck that pulled into his path from Croft St. He said when he applied the brakes, the car was pulled to the left, crashing onto the cemetery grounds. The muffler and exhaust pipe were torn off the auto and three pieces of shrubbery were damaged, police said.

A collision at Market and 4th Sts. at 3:35 p. m. Wednesday damaged a 1959 convertible driven by William Lee Bickle, 19, of 1005 Avondale St. and a 1955 sedan operated by Opal C. Patton of Ashland Pl., police said.

Lyman Beagle of Logan St. told police Wednesday night the right rear fender of his 1953 two-door sedan was damaged by a hit-skip auto while it was parked near his home Monday night or Tuesday.

2 Cities Lead In Convention Site For GOP

Philadelphia And Chicago Now Listed As Top Favorites

That is the speculation of some national committee officials, who say a late July or early August convention is a good bet. Some other sources, while agreeing Chicago and Philadelphia now hold the lead, say the choice is still open. No decision is expected before April.

Meanwhile, Democratic committee officials predict the full committee at its meeting here Feb. 27 will resist Chicago and Philadelphia protests and uphold a site committee's selection of Los Angeles for the Democratic convention. The Democrats have fixed July 11 as their convention starting date.

Republicans who recently received convention city bids from half a dozen cities deferred a recommendation until they could visit some sites and get proposals in writing. The full committee will meet in April to act on a site recommendation.

San Francisco is believed by some party officials still to be a contender for the GOP conclave, but others argue a California selection would appear to show committee favoritism for a probable home state candidate for the presidential nomination, Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

The same thing would apply to Los Angeles. New York, also a bidder, by the same token would provide a home base for New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, who is a potential opponent of Nixon for the nomination.

Miami Beach, the sixth bidder for the GOP meeting, is short of television cables and may be scratched for that reason.

Republicans met in San Francisco in 1956, in Chicago in 1952 and in Philadelphia in 1948.

Democrats held their last two conventions in Chicago. Committee officials say Los Angeles was chosen by the site group for many reasons, but that political considerations were important. These include the big Democratic victory in the state last November plus prospects that it will become the second largest unit in the Electoral College after the 1960 census.

Sen. Mansfield Urges East, West German Parley

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Mike Mansfield (D-Mont) today proposed direct negotiations between East and West Germans to unify their country and remove the threat of war.

Mansfield suggested a nine-point program under which United Nations police forces would replace Soviet and Allied troops in Berlin to support a German agreement.

Mansfield, assistant Democratic leader of the Senate and an influential member of its Foreign Relations Committee, outlined his program in a major speech prepared for Senate delivery.

He said he and other Democrats as well as Republicans solidly back the administration and the North Atlantic Pact policy of refusing to be driven from Berlin by the Soviet proposal for withdrawal of all foreign troops from the city in May.

Was Washington Guide For Years

Local Man Recalls Lincoln Tours

By GLENN WAIGHT

The quiet reverence paid by millions of visitors to Lincoln landmarks in Washington, D. C., is recalled today—birthday of the President—by a city man who served as a guide at the capital for 25 years.

J. R. Judy of 1621 Holliday St. recalls that the majority of tourists he conducted felt the most impressive part of a trip to Washington was the Lincoln Memorial.

In his years of showing high school classes, adult groups and others through Washington, Judy found the personal stature of the Civil War president ranked at the top with visitors.

"And beyond the shadow of a doubt, the Lincoln Memorial is the outstanding aspect of a Washington tour for most sightseers." Judy says the renowned statue of Lincoln in the white marble building at the end of a reflecting pool inspires a feeling of awe.

HE ALSO recalls conducting visitors to the old Ford Theater, now the Lincoln Museum, where the president was fatally wounded by John Wilkes Booth.

The former guide treasures some pictures from a scrapbook which depict the deathbed scene of the dying Lincoln, who was carried from the theater to a home across the street. The scrapbook was found about 20 years ago in a barn near Bethesda, Md., by his two sons, Allen and Frank, who were playing there not far from where the family then resided.

Judy, who was born in Eglon, W. Va., came with his parents to East Liverpool when an infant. He was raised in the Holliday St. home, and drove a taxi before going to Washington, where he also was a cab driver.

He became interested in sightseeing work, took an examination on his knowledge of the capital, obtained a guide's license and began to conduct tours for various agencies. He met his future wife in Washington, where she was born and raised.

JUDY'S TOURS included the Ford Theater and the Petersen Home opposite, both national shrines, where visitors would stop for a half hour or more to view the scene of the assasination and the death room where Lincoln's Secretary of War Edwin M. Stanton, formerly of Steubenville, said, "Now he belongs to the ages."

Judy said many teachers and chaperons would specifically request that the tours include the theater and Petersen home. The theater is now filled with display cases and exhibits of Lincoln memorablia. And Booth's route across the stage where he fled after the balcony shooting is outlined in paint.

Abraham Lincoln's Deathbed Scene
(From Mr. Judy's Scrapbook of days in Washington)

One of the outstanding memories he has of the years at the capital is being the first guide to conduct a group of blind children around the city.

For three days Judy was the "eyes" of some 40 youngsters of the Batavia (N. Y.) School for the Blind. He obtained permission from building directors and museum officials for the young people to feel various objects which were labeled "Do not touch" for sightseers.

Judy also conducted tours to Gettysburg, Annapolis and other historical places near Washington. He says he liked his work, but it became monotonous in the last few years, seeing the same places and saying the same things.

HE RECALLS making many friends and enjoying the time spent with the groups he led. Judy, who did his own booking of tours, said the senior class trips began about April 1 and were followed in the spring and summer by a rush of other chartered tours.

He never "lost" a sightseer in the wanderings around Washington, as some guides have done. Judy said he had only two student groups which gave him trouble.

Judy and his wife left Washington about 1953 for Alliance, where they operated a coffee and doughnut shop. They returned to East Liverpool two years ago, opening Ray's Pizza Palace, opposite the former bus barn along Pennsylvania Ave.

The walls of the shop are hung with pictures of groups Judy conducted on tours.

He admits he would not want to go back to guide work, but he hasn't forgotten any of the old spiel, "And on the left, we have the home of the former President. . ."

Quake And Atom Explosion Control Device Developed

WASHINGTON (AP)—A simple, accurate remote control device for recording earthquakes and monitoring atomic explosions has been developed by a government scientist.

The robot quake recorder seismograph which is now set up on an Arizona mountainside can detect atomic explosions in the United States and throughout the Pacific Ocean area.

Although the government did not say so, it was believed the instrument might be valuable in policing any agreement to ban nuclear bomb tests.

Richard R. Ross, an electronic scientist with the Coast and Geodetic Survey, developed the system. It is now in use 15 miles from the Tucson Magnetic Observatory.

The Coast and Geodetic Survey, part of the Commerce Department, plans to use the system at Honolulu and Fairbanks, Alaska.

CHEVY'S NEW HI-THRIFT 6

More miles are back in a gallon of regular-grade gas—up to 10% more—and Chevy's new Hi-Thrift 6 engine puts them there. It also gives you more "git" in the speeds you drive the most.

Here's an engine that always seems able to coax extra miles out of a tank of regular-grade gas. In fact, if you're one of those drivers who keep tab on things like gas mileage, you'll soon see for yourself that this new Hi-Thrift 6 gets up to 10% more miles a gallon.

Another thing you'll like about this 135-h.p. 6 is the extra pep it gives you for passing and climbing hills. This is due to higher torque at normal speeds.

It may be hard to believe anything that looks and moves like this '59 Chevy can be such a stickler for economy. But—whether you pick the Hi-Thrift 6 or a vim-packed V8—this is just one more reason Chevy's the car that's wanted for all its worth. Stop by your dealer's and see.

The Man Who Belonged To Everybody

When Abraham Lincoln was born, George Washington had been dead less than 10 years. As a growing boy, the American whose destiny was to save the United States was as close to the American who founded it as a teen-ager today is to the era of Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Yet, there is not an American who thinks of Lincoln in the same way he thinks of Washington. The latter is austere and heroic in his historic stature — a monumental symbol, like a figure in mythology. Lincoln is common, humble and just a bit ridiculous, even in the perspective of history.

He attained fame by a lucky break in a long ordeal of trial and error — an obscure individual who never would have been heard of if political kingmakers had not shied away from notable men who had earned too much opposition from special-interest groups.

He was nominated for the presidency because a nobody had fewer ready-made opponents than a somebody. He was elected because three opponents split the vote against him. If they had joined forces, he would have been swamped.

HE WENT TO WASHINGTON as a minority president. In 10 Southern states he had not polled a single vote. He did not carry his own county in Illinois. He was unknown to the important men who intended to take control of his affairs and run the nation, using him as a scarecrow puppet.

But then a miracle unfolded.

The scarecrow became as monumental a symbol as George Washington had been, but in a different way.

He became the symbol of the ordinary people of the United States — the befuddled, frustrated, misunderstood and often un-understandable Americans who believe it is their duty and destiny to help save what their forefathers handed down to them.

They did not know how to do it in the 1960's, nor did Lincoln. But like him, they had courage. They believed it was worth doing, and they made up methods as they went along.

Everyone who looks back on the Lincoln administration marvels that the nation endured, that it refused to succumb to its multiplying and manifest weaknesses — the hatred, corruption, wrong-headedness, malice and ignorance which mounted to such ferocious proportions that Abraham Lincoln and his cabinet were marked for wholesale assassination.

ONLY LINCOLN fell; the others would not have mattered. By the time of his Gethsemane and his Calvary, he had risen so far above the stature of his contemporaries that their names already were unimportant.

There was not one of Lincoln's associates who did not consider himself superior to the shambling, tragi-comic figure whom politics had cast in a martyr's role. They were condescending when they had to be, but they resented this fumbling interloper who had butted into their tidy plans.

Who, after all, was Abraham Lincoln to think he knew more than they knew?

They did not understand how it was going to be in the kind of government they had inherited from George Washington. They do not fully understand it to this day.

They still don't know who Abraham Lincoln was — and if he came back they would despise him as heartily as they despised him when he was elected in 1860.

He was the people of the republic — common, humble and just a bit ridiculous in their attempts to save what George Washington gave them.

DiSalle Defines A Delicate Issue

Whether or not the Ohio General Assembly can resolve the capital punishment issue as defined for it by Gov. DiSalle is problematic.

The governor in his message to the Ohio legislature has made a clear presentation of a delicate issue. He has chosen to stress the moral aspects, but he has not neglected the law-enforcement aspect.

In summary, he has pointed out there is no conclusive evidence that capital punishment is a deterrent to the crime of murder and that in the absence of such evidence Ohio should join the states that have abolished capital punishment on moral grounds.

The question the legislators must settle in their minds is whether the evidence that capital punishment is a deterrent to murder is as inconclusive as Gov. DiSalle believes it is. If they could be shown that the possibility of death in the electric chair caused some would-be murderers in Ohio to back away from the commission of the deed, they would be inclined to keep capital punishment in force—and they should.

Their decision is complicated, unfortunately, by uncertainty about what needs to be done to other provisions in the Ohio law for dealing with first-degree murderers. The day before Gov. DiSalle gave the Ohio Assembly his views on capital punishment, a parole was granted to an Ohio prisoner convicted on a charge of first-degree murder growing out of a holdup in Cleveland in 1940, in which a private guard was killed.

Former Gov. O'Neill had commuted the prisoner's first-degree conviction to second-degree to make him eligible for parole. It is exactly this kind of procedure that makes many Ohio jurists and policemen fearful of the results of abolishing capital punishment. They are afraid that shooting to kill, with no possibility of capital punishment, might become a form of violence in which the game always would seem to be worth the candle.

Gov. DiSalle says the decision belongs to the legislators; that he will not try to impose his judgment, now that he has made it public.

Everything depends on whether capital punishment has been a deterrent to the crime of murder. That is a matter of legislative judgment. The governor doubts that it has. On that basis, he thinks capital punishment should be abolished on moral grounds.

Who Would Speak For The Majority?

One of the most attractive ideas for progress proposed in 1958 was offered by Arthur J. Goldberg, general counsel for AFL-CIO.

He wanted leaders of labor and management to form an assembly for long-term discussion of their mutual problems — a continuous discussion group.

He thought the leaders would learn they had more things in common than they thought they had. He may even have dreamed about the possibility of mutual understanding that would bring a production break-through which would get rid of worrisome comparisons with other countries once and for all.

The Chamber of Commerce of the United States belatedly has blasted the Goldberg proposal, and with sound logic. The organization's monthly labor relations letter declares there could be no point to such a meeting unless organized labor conceded in advance it is a minority of the working force of the country. It declares, also, that organized labor would have to agree to bar government participation and to grant that employer organizations of the country are everything their most enthusiastic frinds say they are.

With equal logic, labor organizations could demand the same concessions in advance from employer organizations — and there goes the ball game. Both the unions and the employer organizations are minorities. They are special-interest groups.

The only representative discussion group, because it represents everybody, is the United States Congress, where the dream of mutual understanding and the emancipation of men from class warfare and ideological bickering transplanted into the New World from the Old World could be made to materialize if congressmen thought there was a demand for it.

There should be no need to substitute makeshift assemblies for the master assembly that does its work under Constitutional sanction. Mr. Goldberg, whose client apparently didn't like his proposal either, gets E for Effort—nothing more.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

New York special committee has ruled that in a society flooded with jackpots, sweepstake operations, football pools, bingo games, auto raffles and general gambling, it is hard to get alarmed over a man betting on a horse with same comfort he gets winning a year's supply of money through a quiz show, an Irish lottery or a chance to win a trip to Paris from a soap sponsor.

Mystery is how the committee managed to carry its report safely to City Hall through the terrific traffic jam of citizens in a frenzied rush to try their luck on one thing or another.

COMMITTEEMEN got badly shaken up when caught between a busload of promoters of "You Too Can Win $10,000" airwave shows and a trailer full of agents with new twists enabling folks to get rich by completing the sentence, "I like hominy grits because . . ." Committee decision is briefly:

1. A man should be allowed to make a bet on a horse without being a sneak, a lawbreaker or a victim of tough transportation and fallen arches.

2. It's not a bad idea to let a horse help pull a city out of a deep hole.

3. A citizen who can take a day off and leave town should get no favoritism over one who wishes to do his wrong guessing without exotic scenery, Oriental architecture, wild bird life and artificial lakes.

4. If a man wants to squawk "The bum quit on me" during a brief interval in the country, he is entitled to the privilege.

The committee played "Budget Aid" across the board. Theory is that since it is all right to "see a man about a horse," it is even better to see horses about a man, when the man is named Father ("In-the-Red") Knickerbocker. Committee decision was 4-2 with one scratch.

The Measure Of Greatness

Khrushchev Shows Worry Signs

By Victor Riesel

Nikita Khrushchev, once chairman of the commission which arranged Joseph Stalin's funeral, apparently liked his work. To prove that all men are equal in the Soviet Union, Comrade Khrushchev has quietly set up a "People's Militia, Comrades' Courts and similar organs" for a purge of all those who protest against new forced labor directives and orders shifting hundreds of thousands of workers east to Siberia.

Victor Riesel

This can be found tucked away in the vast record of the 21st Congress of the Communist party, Soviet Union. News of this new Soviet vigilantism should be spread across America. For it appears to bolster the theory of foreign intelligence sources, as well as some of our own, that behind Khrushchev's rocket rattling is a fear that his industrial production system is cracking.

IT WAS KHRUSHCHEV himself, a brilliant master organizer, who deftly announced the new internal police setup — revealing that its job would be to speed up production and not merely to crack down on political protestation:

"The Socialist Society is creating voluntary organs for maintaining public order such as the People's Militia, Comrades' Courts and similar organs," he announced last week in a directive which I can disclose here for the first time.

"They will work in a new way and discharge public functions in a new manner. Voluntary detachments of the People's Militia must take it upon themselves to maintain order in their own localities.

"The time has come when more attention should be devoted to the Comrades' Courts which must seek mainly to anticipate all kinds of infringements and must deal not only with questions of production but with questions of every day life cases of wrong behavior by members of a collective who have permitted a digression from standards of public order to take place."

IN OTHER WORDS — no public protests against the ever-mounting pressure for more heavy labor and increased output.

In disclosing to his inner party people that there would be a new and tougher secret police replacing the "community work" of the old GPU-type unit, Khrushchev said, "One cannot calmly wait for these remnants of capitalism inside Russia to disappear by themselves."

What are these remnants of that "Thing" we all thought no longer existed in the Soviet Union after 41 years of Socialism?

"We must see to it that labor—the creator of all material and cultural benefits — becomes the primary, vital necessity of the people," Khruschev explained. "The assertation of Communist views and norms of behavior is being achieved in the struggle against the remnants of capitalism. It is not too rare that we find people who have an unconscientious attitude toward work, who engage in speculation, violate discipline and the social order.

"It is imperative to wage a determined struggle against them and to direct public opinion against any manifestation of bourgeois views and morals and against anti-social elements."

COMRADE K left no dialectic doubt with his listeners about his toughness. He told them the Russians had machines and he wanted them running at the highest speed.

"In order to control machinery, everybody will have to fulfill within a definite time and in a definite order his function of work and his social duty," the Premier growled.

Large sections of his reports reveal why he believes he'll need a new special People's Militia such as the separating of women from their families, keeping them in factories and supplying central kitchens in apartment houses for their menfolk so no time is wasted cooking.

All this is not the calm of a leader who believes he can bring heavenly peace down to his people by special sputnik. This man is worried.

Letter To The Editor

To all employes of the Homer Laughlin China Co. who are on strike in support of the gold stampers who are doing our work.

For the past 25 years the underglaze girls have done all the decorating on bisque ware—hand painting, print transfer, silk screen, squegee and duraprint.

In May of 1958, an underglaze stamping machine was put into operation at Plant 6 replacing the print transfer process on one of the items in the Quaker Oats underglaze patterns we were then making. We followed our work onto the new machine.

Quaker Oats has terminated the underglaze pattern and no more ware was decorated on this machine until December when it and another larger machine was moved into Plant 4 and work was begun on a new pattern.

The machines consist of a stamp which is inked by a rubber squeegee held against a large roll. This machine is capable of duplicating all the decorations we have been doing by the other four processes and will take their place.

Up until now the operation of the wage agreement has always been that employes follow their work onto machines when machines replaced older methods. The dishmakers followed their dishes to the dish jigger. The casters followed their items to the ram press. We demand the right to follow our work to the stamping machines.

When the overglaze gold stampers claimed a right to our work on the new machine we went to the union and filed our claim.

The IBOP officials gave a decision to the gold stampers at that time. Later, we again met with the IBOP officials and they conceded that we, too, had a claim to the work. But at the same time they pointed out their decision had been made and that they were not going to change their mind.

We are receiving our average pay for the last six months, but no wage actually was set for the job. We, therefore, are not being underpaid according to this average.

The gold stampers are members of Local 124, which is the largest local there is. We are members of Local 155 and have only 55 members, as underglaze decorating has been done only to a very limited extent except at HLC and TS&T where all our members work.

We always understood that the basic principle of unionism was to protect our job rights. We have paid dues into the union for 25 years.

Now because we are small and 124 is a large local we feel that we are being sold down the river by the national union. When we started hand painting at Plant 6 in the early '30s, 124 would not have us, so we had to form our own local. Later they wanted us to turn over our treasury to them and join them and we did not do it.

Odd Facts

The famous "message to Garcia" was a message which U. S. President William McKinley sent to Garcia, the Cuban insurgent general, asking as to the assistance Garcia would furnish to the U. S. in the War with Spain. Garcia replied that he could furnish at least 8,000 well - armed men and that they had a system of transmitting information through the country and could act as guides.

Joy In Moscow?

By David Lawrence

U. S. Public Not Ready To Surrender

It seems easy sometimes to personalize big issues and doubtless Moscow is reading with exultation today the news that maybe Secretary of State Dulles will not be as active as before. For there are in the Soviet Union as well as in the United States and Britain many who think that the policy of this country is "inflexible" or "rigid" or fixed at "dead center" because Mr. Dulles presumably wants it that way—and that, once he has left office, all will be changed.

David Lawrence

Actually, there is only one simple barrier between Moscow and Washington today. The Soviets want unconditional surrender, which means no concessions of substance on their part. Anybody who stands in their way is promptly labelled as unrealistic and inflexible and as desiring to continue "tensions" in preference to acceptance of a supposedly attractive alternative — "peaceful co-existence."

MR. DULLES is an international lawyer and an experienced negotiator. He is handicapped by the fact that there are newspapers in America which continually tell the Russians, in effect, not to worry about what he says and that American public opinion is virtually ready for peace at any price.

When Deputy Premier Mikoyan returned to Moscow after his visit to this country, he told the 21st Communist Party Congress that the American people are really in favor of peace but their government isn't. The attempt to drive a wedge between the people of the United States and their government was transparent.

Oddly enough, the angry reaction which followed the Mikoyan visit showed that American public opinion hasn't changed a bit—it is basically distrustful of the Communist regime and isn't ready to surrender, either. This correspondent received a bigger mail about it from all parts of the country than on any other subject in recent years.

THE PEOPLE from coast to coast insisted in their letters they were not taken in by the Mikoyan trip. It is interesting to note also that many citizens are beginning to say about war that there comes a time "when you can take just so much and no more."

Phrases like this have not appeared in letters to this writer since the days before the last two world wars.

It is a strange phenomenon but there are many observers who wishfully think that, because war is almost too horrible to contemplate, this means the people are willing to swallow their pride and their patriotism and surrender to a foreign foe. No greater mistake could be made in evaluating public opinion in America.

Perhaps the most realistic appraisal of the opinion of the American people today would be to say that they want peace, but not at any price. They are willing to see peace negotiated but this does not mean that our side must make all the concessions. Nor does it mean that the supposed "settlement" can be of such a nature that it obviously will breed war as a consequence.

What makes international diplomacy hard to conduct these days is the fact that some of the influential newspapers in all the free countries are so eager for peace that they give the impression to Moscow that almost anything will be accepted. This is called "flexibility."

A press that can express itself freely is important to maintain, but there is an obligation also to make sure that the opinion of the silent citizen is taken into account.

Today there is really a greater support by world opinion than ever before behind the policies of the United States and its allies in the face of Communist trickery.

THE PROBLEM of Berlin does not seem on the surface anything that in and of itself would be difficult to resolve. Whether the traffic to and from Berlin through the Eastern Zone is controlled by an East German government or by the Soviet military patrols isn't the reason. What is more important is whether West Berlin shall continue as a symbol to the West German people — as a free city—or whether the Communists will be able to boast of another propaganda victory that will not only depress the Western countries, but will discourage the people of the captive countries.

The craving for liberation is not dead in Eastern Europe. It is very important to maintain the morale of the people of Poland, Hungary, Czechoslovakia, Romania, Bulgaria, Latvia, Lithuania and Estonia, as well as the freedom-seeking people of East Germany.

To capitulate to the Reds — or to seem to be doing so — is dangerous because it could lead to a miscalculation by Moscow and a further "testing" that can bring on the kind of incidents out of which in the past sudden war has come.

Illness By Schedule

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles approaches illness like a conference with the Soviets: it will be a problem, but he has his plans made and it won't last forever, and when it is over he will have other problems.

Despite physical setbacks which would have floored other and younger men, President Eisenhower, 68, and Dulles, 70, have treated their serious illnesses like temporary discomforts.

Eisenhower, who has had a heart attack and an intestinal operation, and Dulles, who has had surgery for cancer and now faces a hernia operation, seem to look upon the secretary's latest hospitalization with great optimism.

The White House has denied not only firmly but picturesquely speculation that Eisenhower has been discussing with his associates the possible retirement of Dulles.

Eisenhower's press secretary, James Hagerty, is the one who gave picturesqueness to the denial although his figures of speech were mixed: "I can say it (the speculation) was completely cockeyed, doubled in spades."

Before he went into the hospital this week Dulles gave the impression his hernia operation wouldn't set him back for long.

In his note to Eisenhower asking hospital leave, Dulles said "I'd like to devote a few weeks to physical recuperation" and, since he'd be in the hospital awhile he added, he could use the time thinking about the West Berlin problem still to be settled with the U.S.S.R.

Dulles brushed off any idea that he might really be out of circulation by telling the President: "I would be available for consultation with you and my associates and would expect, after a few weeks, to resume fully the duties of my office."

This left no doubt that Dulles, even though in the hospital or recuperating at home, planned still to be the State Department's No. 1 man.

It's possible his plans for dealing with the Soviets — over their demands that the Allies pull their troops out of West Berlin and leave it a free city — can go on pretty well if—.

It's an "if" that can't be overlooked, no matter how great the optimism in the administration.

"The "if" is that Dulles is away up in years, illness has piled up on him, and he has worn himself down in his service as secretary. Therefore it's possible he will not respond physically as well as he and Eisenhower appear to think he will.

But until that happens — if it happens — it is pretty clear that anyone sitting in for Dulles, like Under Secretary of State Christian Herter, will be completely overshadowed by Dulles, and that Dulles will continue to do the thinking for the State Department.

What Is The Sun?

A flood of unfailingly constant sunlight is what keeps the earth from turning into a giant snowball. But what is the sun?

Earth's old reliable is one of hundreds of millions of stars that spangle the galaxy. By cosmic standards, it is a very ordinary star, though as the source of the earth's light and heat, it is a remarkable machine.

Had the sun been bigger, thus a more accelerated stellar furnace, it might have used up most of its fuel eons ago.

Physically, the sun is a great sphere of hot gases, with a diameter of 864,000 miles. Its mass is 330,000 times that of the earth, which swings about it as on a string at an average distance of 93 million miles.

The sun's light is silvery, not golden, and it is not afire as Aristotle thought. The prodigious outpouring of light and heat comes from atomic fusion deep within the core. Each second the sun scatters a largess of energy equal to that of a billion or so exploding hydrogen bombs.

The earth is so small that it intercepts only a negligible amount of the sun's radiation. Even so, on any sunny noon, one square mile of the earth's surface laps up solar energy equivalent to about three million horsepower.

DiSalle Defines A Delicate Issue

Whether or not the Ohio General Assembly can resolve the capital punishment issue as defined for it by Gov. DiSalle is problematic.

The governor in his message to the Ohio legislature has made a clear presentation of a delicate issue. He has chosen to stress the moral aspects, but he has not neglected the law-enforcement aspect.

In summary, he has pointed out there is no conclusive evidence that capital punishment is a deterrent to the crime of murder and that in the absence of such evidence Ohio should join the states that have abolished capital punishment on moral grounds.

The question the legislators must settle in their minds is whether the evidence that capital punishment is a deterrent to murder is as inconclusive as Gov. DiSalle believes it is. If they could be shown that the possibility of death in the electric chair caused some would-be murderers in Ohio to back away from the commission of the deed, they would be inclined to keep capital punishment in force—and they should.

Their decision is complicated, unfortunately, by uncertainty about what needs to be done to other provisions in the Ohio law for dealing with first-degree murderers. The day before Gov. DiSalle gave the Ohio Assembly his views on capital punishment, a parole was granted to an Ohio prisoner convicted on a charge of first-degree murder growing out of a holdup in Cleveland in 1940, in which a private guard was killed.

Former Gov. O'Neill had commuted the prisoner's first-degree conviction to second-degree to make him eligible for parole. It is exactly this kind of procedure that makes many Ohio jurists and policemen fearful of the results of abolishing capital punishment. They are afraid that shooting to kill, with no possibility of capital punishment, might become a form of violence in which the game always would seem to be worth the candle.

Gov. DiSalle says the decision belongs to the legislators; that he will not try to impose his judgment, now that he has made it public.

Everything depends on whether capital punishment has been a deterrent to the crime of murder. That is a matter of legislative judgment. The governor doubts that it has. On that basis, he thinks capital punishment should be abolished on moral grounds.

Who Would Speak For The Majority?

One of the most attractive ideas for progress proposed in 1958 was offered by Arthur J. Goldberg, general counsel for AFL-CIO.

He wanted leaders of labor and management to form an assembly for long-term discussion of their mutual problems — a continuous discussion group.

He thought the leaders would learn they had more things in common than they thought they had. He may even have dreamed about the possibility of mutual understanding that would bring a production break-through which would get rid of worrisome comparisons with other countries once and for all.

The Chamber of Commerce of the United States belatedly has blasted the Goldberg proposal, and with sound logic. The organization's monthly labor relations letter declares there could be no point to such a meeting unless organized labor conceded in advance it is a minority of the working force of the country. It declares, also, that organized labor would have to agree to bar government participation and to grant that employer organizations of the country are everything their most enthusiastic frinds say they are.

With equal logic, labor organizations could demand the same concessions in advance from employer organizations — and there goes the ball game. Both the unions and the employer organizations are minorities. They are special-interest groups.

The only representative discussion group, because it represents everybody, is the United States Congress, where the dream of mutual understanding and the emancipation of men from class warfare and ideological bickering transplanted into the New World from the Old World could be made to materialize if congressmen thought there was a demand for it.

There should be no need to substitute makeshift assemblies for the master assembly that does its work under Constitutional sanction. Mr. Goldberg, whose client apparently didn't like his proposal either, gets E for Effort—nothing more.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

New York special committee has ruled that in a society flooded with jackpots, sweepstake operations, football pools, bingo games, auto raffles and general gambling, it is hard to get alarmed over a man betting on a horse with same comfort he gets winning a year's supply of money through a quiz show, an Irish lottery or a chance to win a trip to Paris from a soap sponsor.

Mystery is how the committee managed to carry its report safely to City Hall through the terrific traffic jam of citizens in a frenzied rush to try their luck on one thing or another.

COMMITTEEMEN got badly shaken up when caught between a busload of promoters of "You Too Can Win $10,000" airwave shows and a trailer full of agents with new twists enabling folks to get rich by completing the sentence, "I like hominy grits because . . ." Committee decision is briefly:

1. A man should be allowed to make a bet on a horse without being a sneak, a lawbreaker or a victim of tough transportation and fallen arches.

2. It's not a bad idea to let a horse help pull a city out of a deep hole.

3. A citizen who can take a day off and leave town should get no favoritism over one who wishes to do his wrong guessing without exotic scenery, Oriental architecture, wild bird life and artificial lakes.

4. If a man wants to squawk "The bum quit on me" during a brief interval in the country, he is entitled to the privilege.

The committee played "Budget Aid" across the board. Theory is that since it is all right to "see a man about a horse," it is even better to see horses about a man, when the man is named Father ("In-the-Red") Knickerbocker. Committee decision was 4-2 with one scratch.

The Measure Of Greatness

Khrushchev Shows Worry Signs

By Victor Riesel

Nikita Khrushchev, once chairman of the commission which arranged Joseph Stalin's funeral, apparently liked his work. To prove that all men are equal in the Soviet Union, Comrade Khrushchev has quietly set up a "People's Militia, Comrades' Courts and similar organs" for a purge of all those who protest against new forced labor directives and orders shifting hundreds of thousands of workers east to Siberia.

Victor Riesel

This can be found tucked away in the vast record of the 21st Congress of the Communist party, Soviet Union. News of this new Soviet vigilantism should be spread across America. For it appears to bolster the theory of foreign intelligence sources, as well as some of our own, that behind Khrushchev's rocket rattling is a fear that his industrial production system is cracking.

IT WAS KHRUSHCHEV himself, a brilliant master organizer, who deftly announced the new internal police setup — revealing that its job would be to speed up production and not merely to crack down on political protestation:

"The Socialist Society is creating voluntary organs for maintaining public order such as the People's Militia, Comrades' Courts and similar organs," he announced last week in a directive which I can disclose here for the first time.

"They will work in a new way and discharge public functions in a new manner. Voluntary detachments of the People's Militia must take it upon themselves to maintain order in their own localities.

"The time has come when more attention should be devoted to the Comrades' Courts which must seek mainly to anticipate all kinds of infringements and must deal not only with questions of production but with questions of every day life cases of wrong behavior by members of a collective who have permitted a digression from standards of public order to take place."

IN OTHER WORDS — no public protests against the ever-mounting pressure for more heavy labor and increased output.

In disclosing to his inner party people that there would be a new and tougher secret police replacing the "community work" of the old GPU-type unit, Khrushchev said, "One cannot calmly wait for these remnants of capitalism inside Russia to disappear by themselves."

What are these remnants of that "Thing" we all thought no longer existed in the Soviet Union after 41 years of Socialism?

"We must see to it that labor—the creator of all material and cultural benefits — becomes the primary, vital necessity of the people," Khruschev explained. "The assertation of Communist views and norms of behavior is being achieved in the struggle against the remnants of capitalism. It is not too rare that we find people who have an unconscientious attitude toward work, who engage in speculation, violate discipline and the social order.

"It is imperative to wage a determined struggle against them and to direct public opinion against any manifestation of bourgeois views and morals and against anti-social elements."

COMRADE K left no dialectic doubt with his listeners about his toughness. He told them the Russians had machines and he wanted them running at the highest speed.

"In order to control machinery, everybody will have to fulfill within a definite time and in a definite order his function of work and his social duty," the Premier growled.

Large sections of his reports reveal why he believes he'll need a new special People's Militia such as the separating of women from their families, keeping them in factories and supplying central kitchens in apartment houses for their menfolk so no time is wasted cooking.

All this is not the calm of a leader who believes he can bring heavenly peace down to his people by special sputnik. This man is worried.

Letter To The Editor

To all employes of the Homer Laughlin China Co. who are on strike in support of the gold stampers who are doing our work.

For the past 25 years the underglaze girls have done all the decorating on bisque ware—hand painting, print transfer, silk screen, squegee and duraprint.

In May of 1958, an underglaze stamping machine was put into operation at Plant 6 replacing the print transfer process on one of the items in the Quaker Oats underglaze patterns we were then making. We followed our work onto the new machine.

Quaker Oats has terminated the underglaze pattern and no more ware was decorated on this machine until December when it and another larger machine was moved into Plant 4 and work was begun on a new pattern.

The machines consist of a stamp which is inked by a rubber squeegee held against a large roll. This machine is capable of duplicating all the decorations we have been doing by the other four processes and will take their place.

Up until now the operation of the wage agreement has always been that employes follow their work onto machines when machines replaced older methods. The dishmakers followed their dishes to the dish jigger. The casters followed their items to the ram press. We demand the right to follow our work to the stamping machines.

When the overglaze gold stampers claimed a right to our work on the new machine we went to the union and filed our claim.

The IBOP officials gave a decision to the gold stampers at that time. Later, we again met with the IBOP officials and they conceded that we, too, had a claim to the work. But at the same time they pointed out their decision had been made and that they were not going to change their mind.

We are receiving our average pay for the last six months, but no wage actually was set for the job. We, therefore, are not being underpaid according to this average.

The gold stampers are members of Local 124, which is the largest local there is. We are members of Local 155 and have only 55 members, as underglaze decorating has been done only to a very limited extent except at HLC and TS&T where all our members work.

We always understood that the basic principle of unionism was to protect our job rights. We have paid dues into the union for 25 years.

Now because we are small and 124 is a large local we feel that we are being sold down the river by the national union. When we started hand painting at Plant 6 in the early '30s, 124 would not have us, so we had to form our own local. Later they wanted us to turn over our treasury to them and join them and we did not do it.

The famous "message to Garcia" was a message which U. S. President William McKinley sent to Garcia, the Cuban insurgent general, asking as to the assistance Garcia would furnish to the U. Joy In Moscow?

By David Lawrence

U. S. Public Not Ready To Surrender

It seems easy sometimes to personalize big issues and doubtless Moscow is reading with exultation today the news that maybe Secretary of State Dulles will not be as active as before. For there are in the Soviet Union as well as in the United States and Britain many who think that the policy of this country is "inflexible" or "rigid" or fixed at "dead center" because Mr. Dulles presumably wants it that way—and that, once he has left office, all will be changed.

David Lawrence

Actually, there is only one simple barrier between Moscow and Washington today. The Soviets want unconditional surrender, which means no concessions of substance on their part. Anybody who stands in their way is promptly labelled as unrealistic and inflexible and as desiring to continue "tensions" in preference to acceptance of a supposedly attractive alternative — "peaceful co-existence."

MR. DULLES is an international lawyer and an experienced negotiator. He is handicapped by the fact that there are newspapers in America which continually tell the Russians, in effect, not to worry about what he says and that American public opinion is virtually ready for peace at any price.

When Deputy Premier Mikoyan returned to Moscow after his visit to this country, he told the 21st Communist Party Congress that the American people are really in favor of peace but their government isn't. The attempt to drive a wedge between the people of the United States and their government was transparent.

Oddly enough, the angry reaction which followed the Mikoyan visit showed that American public opinion hasn't changed a bit—it is basically distrustful of the Communist regime and isn't ready to surrender, either. This correspondent received a bigger mail about it from all parts of the country than on any other subject in recent years.

THE PEOPLE from coast to coast insisted in their letters they were not taken in by the Mikoyan trip. It is interesting to note also that many citizens are beginning to say about war that there comes a time "when you can take just so much and no more."

Phrases like this have not appeared in letters to this writer since the days before the last two world wars.

It is a strange phenomenon but there are many observers who wishfully think that, because war is almost too horrible to contemplate, this means the people are willing to swallow their pride and their patriotism and surrender to a foreign foe. No greater mistake could be made in evaluating public opinion in America.

Perhaps the most realistic appraisal of the opinion of the American people today would be to say that they want peace, but not at any price. They are willing to see peace negotiated but this does not mean that our side must make all the concessions. Nor does it mean that the supposed "settlement" can be of such a nature that it obviously will breed war as a consequence.

What makes international diplomacy hard to conduct these days is the fact that some of the influential newspapers in all the free countries are so eager for peace that they give the impression to Moscow that almost anything will be accepted. This is called "flexibility."

A press that can express itself freely is important to maintain, but there is an obligation also to make sure that the opinion of the silent citizen is taken into account.

Today there is really a greater support by world opinion than ever before behind the policies of the United States and its allies in the face of Communist trickery.

THE PROBLEM of Berlin does not seem on the surface anything that in and of itself would be difficult to resolve. Whether the traffic to and from Berlin through the Eastern Zone is controlled by an East German government or by the Soviet military patrols isn't the reason. What is more important is whether West Berlin shall continue as a symbol to the West German people — as a free city—or whether the Communists will be able to boast of another propaganda victory that will not only depress the Western countries, but will discourage the people of the captive countries.

The craving for liberation is not dead in Eastern Europe. It is very important to maintain the morale of the people of Poland, Hungary, Czechoslovakia, Romania, Bulgaria, Latvia, Lithuania and Estonia, as well as the freedom-seeking people of East Germany.

To capitulate to the Reds — or to seem to be doing so — is dangerous because it could lead to a miscalculation by Moscow and a further "testing" that can bring on the kind of incidents out of which in the past sudden war has come.

Illness By Schedule

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles approaches illness like a conference with the Soviets: it will be a problem, but he has his plans made and it won't last forever, and when it is over he will have other problems.

Despite physical setbacks which would have floored other and younger men, President Eisenhower, 68, and Dulles, 70, have treated their serious illnesses like temporary discomforts.

Eisenhower, who has had a heart attack and an intestinal operation, and Dulles, who has had surgery for cancer and now faces a hernia operation, seem to look upon the secretary's latest hospitalization with great optimism.

The White House has denied not only firmly but picturesquely speculation that Eisenhower has been discussing with his associates the possible retirement of Dulles.

Eisenhower's press secretary, James Hagerty, is the one who gave picturesqueness to the denial although his figures of speech were mixed: "I can say it (the speculation) was completely cockeyed, doubled in spades."

Before he went into the hospital this week Dulles gave the impression his hernia operation wouldn't set him back for long.

In his note to Eisenhower asking hospital leave, Dulles said "I'd like to devote a few weeks to physical recuperation" and, since he'd be in the hospital awhile he added, he could use the time thinking about the West Berlin problem still to be settled with the U.S.S.R.

Dulles brushed off any idea that he might really be out of circulation by telling the President: "I would be available for consultation with you and my associates and would expect, after a few weeks, to resume fully the duties of my office."

This left no doubt that Dulles, even though in the hospital or recuperating at home, planned still to be the State Department's No. 1 man.

It's possible his plans for dealing with the Soviets — over their demands that the Allies pull their troops out of West Berlin and leave it a free city — can go on pretty well if—.

It's an "if" that can't be overlooked, no matter how great the optimism in the administration.

"The "if" is that Dulles is away up in years, illness has piled up on him, and he has worn himself down in his service as secretary. Therefore it's possible he will not respond physically as well as he and Eisenhower appear to think he will.

But until that happens — if it happens — it is pretty clear that anyone sitting in for Dulles, like Under Secretary of State Christian Herter, will be completely overshadowed by Dulles, and that Dulles will continue to do the thinking for the State Department.

What Is The Sun?

A flood of unfailingly constant sunlight is what keeps the earth from turning into a giant snowball. But what is the sun?

Earth's old reliable is one of hundreds of millions of stars that spangle the galaxy. By cosmic standards, it is a very ordinary star, though as the source of the earth's light and heat, it is a remarkable machine.

Had the sun been bigger, thus a more accelerated stellar furnace, it might have used up most of its fuel eons ago.

Physically, the sun is a great sphere of hot gases, with a diameter of 864,000 miles. Its mass is 330,000 times that of the earth, which swings about it as on a string at an average distance of 93 million miles.

The sun's light is silvery, not golden, and it is not afire as Aristotle thought. The prodigious outpouring of light and heat comes from atomic fusion deep within the core. Each second the sun scatters a largess of energy equal to that of a billion or so exploding hydrogen bombs.

The earth is so small that it intercepts only a negligible amount of the sun's radiation. Even so, on any sunny noon, one square mile of the earth's surface laps up solar energy equivalent to about three million horsepower.

Midland Eyes State Aid For Street Repair

Council Gets Report On Study Progress For Planning Group

Midland Council passed a resolution Wednesday evening to make application to Beaver County commissioners for state aid from the gasoline tax fund for borough street repairs.

Council said sections of the highway on 13th St. from Midland Ave. to Virginia Ave. need repairs and 12th to 13th Sts. on Ohio Ave. requires resurfacing.

Dr. Zanvel Sigal, Planning Commission chairman, introduced Jack Wilson, representative of Morris Knowles, consulting engineers of Pittsburgh, who gave a report on progress of a survey.

Wilson said a draft of Phase I will be ready in early March and a complete report will be ready for review late that month.

Councilman Lester Trainer asked Wilson to explain Phase I. Wilson said it is the research and survey part of the study and is an inventory of existing conditions with general projections.

He said when the report of the phase is ready, residents will be allowed to participate in making decisions. Progress thus far on the study has been satisfactory, he said.

Councilman Joseph Hibbard complained of mud and muck on 6th St. and Woodlane and Railroad Aves., due to installation of new water line.

Steve Germusa, president, explained that the contractor for the project is under a time limit and had to keep moving ahead before completing previous work.

R. E. Steebner, borough engineer, said the job should not have been started during the winter but there was a delay because the contractor, the Crown Construction Co. of Pittsburgh, did not have sufficient insurance.

Several vehicles have fallen into excavations or have become stuck in mud. Atty. Robert Masters, solicitor, said the Municipal Authority is not responsible but the contractor is.

Steebner said the construction was started in December because the low water pressure in that part of the borough was believed to be insufficient in case of a fire.

A personal bond for Rudolph Presutti, tax collector, was approved on the balance of the 1958 tax duplicate, which is $10,874.82. It was co-signed by his wife.

Mrs. Isaure Anderson, who owns Midland property but now lives in Florida, informed Council that she would have a cab stand removed at 723 Midland Ave. and would pay for costs of repair to the sidewalk.

Council again directed a warning to out-of-state motorists that traffic laws will be enforced. Blocking of intersections seems to be the major violation, councilmen said.

Burgess Eli Corak has asked Police Chief Ed Stefl to crack down. Ohio motorists were the main offenders Tuesday, Council said.

Discussing parking at the west end of Midland Ave. in a lot where Daniel Orlando plans to build a custard stand, Council said residents living nearby may continue to park their cars. Orlando plans to mark off parking spaces with yellow lines.

Both served on committees for the Serbian Orthodox Church, which was host for the visit of the exiled monarch.

In a letter to Don Archibald, chairman of the Kiwanis Club's boys and girls committee, Judge Tobin said, "I wish to personally thank you for the wonderful effort in securing a children's receiving home for the county. I think your efforts are to be highly complimented, as well as the generosity of the donor of this gift."

"I wish to assure you and the citizens of East Palestine that this home will be managed in as an efficient manner as possible."

Palestine Pupils Saved From Gas Explosion Threat

EAST PALESTINE—Some 136 pupils at the Our Lady of Lourdes Catholic School were evacuated from the building this morning in a near tragedy when natural gas seeped through the school.

Fire Chief Glenn Libert said the raw gas fuel filled the entire structure, causing a dangerous explosive threat to the students from first through eighth grade and the sisters.

Libert theorized the fuel escape was caused by a back draft from the chimney, and ordered the school closed for the remainder of the day.

Windows were thrown open to ventilate the structure later in the morning, and East Ohio Gas Co. workers and firemen planned to investigate further. The burners of the heater are enclosed.

Instructors and pupils smelled the gas about 9 a. m., and school authorities ordered the building cleared, notifying firemen. The youngsters were first taken to the church across the street, but were later ordered home for the day.

The fumes spread from the basement, where the furnace is located. Whether classes will resume Friday depends on this afternoon's investigation, Libert said.

Short Circuits Linked With Two Fires Here

Short circuits were blamed for two fire alarms Wednesday night that caused minor damage.

Firemen were called to the Kin-Z-Bar, 1755 Dresden Ave., at 10:29 p. m. when a transformer on a neon sign began arcing and set fire to the roof, damaging tar paper and moulding.

Part of the moulding had to be removed to reach the fire, firemen said.

Firemen were notified by police at 8:16 p. m. of a fire in the pump house of the Mississippi-Ohio Oil Co. on the River Rd.

Insulation on some wiring ignited and then set some paper on fire, firemen said. It was out on arrival they added.

17,000 Rebel Fighters Reported In Algeria

ALGIERS (AP) — The French high command estimated 17,000 nationalist rebel fighters are inside the boundaries of Algeria.

A spokesman told newsmen Wednesday that while the number is insignificant compared with the 500,000 French troops in Algeria, the inaccessibility of rebel centers made them difficult to reach.

Midland Hails Exiled King

Peter Given Warm Welcome For Visit

inscribed, "Presented to His Majesty, King Peter II, Feb. 11, 1959" and "Visit to Crucible Steel Co. of America, Midland, Pa."

Burrier said the crosses were made by Serbians who were in the audience as a token for a Christian king.

The king's day in Midland was crowded. He arrvied at the Serbian Orthodox Church Parish House at 11:30 a. m.

HE THEN began his tour of Crucible plants with a visit to the blooming mill. The tour was broken by lunch in the superintendent's dining room where the king commented on the beauty of the United States, and American efficiency, development and unions.

He said visits of more Europeans would help bring better understanding between the two continents.

The king toured the hot and cold strip mills and met several Serbian workmen, including one who kissed his cheek and cried with emotion. Burrier explained the operation.

TOURING the plants with the king were Fr. Milorad Dobrota, pastor of the Serbian church; Gen. Theodore Milicevich, the king's aide; Mileta Milovanovich, secretary of the Serbian National Federation of Pittsburgh and his secretary, Radenko Lazovich; Burgess Eli Corak, Ed Troutman, safety superintendent; Steve Trbovich, 24-inch mill superintendent; Mike Peterson, editor of Crucible's "Steelman"; Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Vranes, Miss Mildred Milkovich and George Tepovich and William Anusich, Midland police, who chauffered the party, and two members of the plant police.

The king visited Midland High School at 3 p.m., toured classrooms and spoke to the student body. A cocktail party followed at the Burrier's home, Windy Ghoul, at Beaver.

ALEX KRIVOSHIA, congregation president, greeted the king with the customary offering of salt and bread during the official welcome at 6 at the church entrance. Josephine Gornak, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Gornak, 648 Beaver Ave., greeted him in Serbian and presented him with a bouquet of flowers.

A brief service followed in the church and the king later met officers of organizations in the church lyceum. The private dinner then followed at the Serbian Home where, at the conclusion of the program, Serbs lined up to shake hands with the king including members of the Dr. Lazo Kostich and Junior Choirs.

King Peter returned to Pittsburgh last night and was scheduled to make a television appearance today and to go to Cleveland this afternoon to visit the rest of the week.

HE WILL BE in this country about five more weeks. He will tour Chicago, Milwaukee, the West Coast and Canada before returning to England.

His visit is in his interest to find homes for Yugoslav refugees at the invitation of Bishop Dionisje, head of the Serbian Orthodox Church Diocese of Libertyville, Ill., near Chicago.

Peter's father, King Alexander Karadjordgevich, was assassinated in Marseilles, France, in 1934. Then Peter ruled under the regency of his uncle, Prince Paul, until Paul's surrender to Hitler's army. King Peter denied the surrender and Yugoslavia was then attacked by Germany and gave up.

Peter then established an exiled government in England. Near the end of the war, Tito captured power and took over the government which Peter has disavowed.

station midway between Midland and Industry, also on Route 68, but took nothing.

The two were vague about the dates of the burglaries in Hancock and Beaver Counties, the sheriff said. However, authorities from Beaver County are to question them for further details, he said.

Risher was held for Grand Jury action under $1,000 bond when arraigned Wednesday before County Judge J. L. MacDonald at Lisbon in connection with the burglary at Hillberry's Restaurant.

An apparent attempt to burglarize the Hillberry Restaurant a second time led to the arrest of the pair. The sheriff's office was notified about 2 a. m. Tuesday that a suspicious car was lurking in the vicinity of the restaurant.

When the auto was halted a short distance away by a sheriff's car, the two were found with the knife and the gun in their possession. That led to the questioning in which they admitted the burglaries, the sheriff said.

In connection with the solution of the cases here, Police Chief Americo Radeschi thanked the sheriff's department for its cooperation.

The robber was well dressed, weighed about 160 or 170 and was about 5 feet 6.

He drove away in a 1955 or 1956 light blue Plymouth sedan, whose license plate was covered, police said.

long ice jam was moving down toward this Wood County community of 800. The jam, 12 to 16 inches thick, is too unwieldy to be dynamited.

Van Wert—Town Creek has receded. U. S. 30 through the city is now open.

Paulding—Flood waters did not reach Paulding County Memorial Hospital, which had been evacuated as a precautionary measure. Sand bags kept the water away.

Ottawa—Only Ohio 13 and 109 were open to traffic in or out of the city.

East Liverpool—The Ohio River was expected to crest today at 32 feet, which is flood stage. But little flooding was expected. Downriver—at Steubenville and Wheeling, W. Va.—the crest is expected to be under flood stage.

SUB

going to keep the people of Ohio dangling—maybe for only 90 days, maybe forever in the courts. You can take the consequences. Maybe next session there will be more room on your side of the aisle for Democrats."

A few minutes later, Ohio AFL-CIO leaders issued this statement:

"We praise the Democratic Party for its effort to make this money available to thousands of unemployed Ohioans on an emergency basis. Unfortunately, the Republican party defeated the effort.

"We commend for signal honor the one Republican senator—Ross Pepple—who attempted to convince his fellow members of the emergency need. . . .

"We are pleased that SUB passed, even without the emergency clause, but we have hope there will be enough Republican members in the House who will be convinced of the desperate need of the workers involved and declare an emergency. We also still have hope that other Republicans in the Senate will realize their error and change their votes."

Four Republicans voted for the bill which would release an estimated 25 to 30 million dollars in SUB funds built up through nickel-an-hour contributions by some 400,000 workers in the auto, steel and rubber industries. They are Pepple, Mosher, Sen. J. E. Simpson of Forest in Hardin County and Sen. Tennyson Guyer of Findlay.

Lawmakers, with a weather eye on the SUB battle in the Senate, introduced another 27 bills Wednesday. They planned to start a long weekend today after offering another batch of proposed laws.

Potter Five Seeks Third Win Friday At Martins Ferry

The East Liverpool Potters will have an opportunity to pick up their third victory of the season when they travel to Martins Ferry Friday night.

District Schedule

Friday

East Liverpool at Martins Ferry
Toronto at Wellsville
Hopewell at Midland
Newell at Chester
Salineville at Beaver Local
New Cumberland at Cameron
Lisbon at Poland
Columbiana at Louisville
Leetonia at East Palestine
Malvern at United
West Alexander at South Side

Martins Ferry is rated an on-and-off team. The Riders were defeated, 80-56, Tuesday night by Bellaire, but once this season have gone over the century mark when they scored 101 points against Wheeling last week.

The Martins Ferry coach is Ed McGlumphy who will be remembered by Potter fans when he performed for the Riders against East Liverpool in 1948 and 1949.

The W & J graduate and former teammate of Frank Chan, Potter reserve coach, is in his first year at Martins Ferry.

McGlumphy plans to start Bob Zilai, a 5-foot-11 senior at a forward in place of Jerry Meldrum who injured his ankle in the Bellaire contest Tuesday night.

At the other forward is Mel Withers, a 6-footer, while Bob Patton 6-foot will be at center. Jim Winland, 5-foot-10 guard, is the leading scorer on the Rider five, averaging about 15 points a game. His high for the season was 31 against Wheeling.

At the other guard post will be a sophomore, Jim Brown who also goes about 5-10.

The Potter coach also is planning to stick with his "possession type" play which played an important part in defeating Toronto Saturday night.

Tight Race In National League . . .

After Monday night's action three teams are clinched in a three-way tie. Turf Bar, Owls Club and Gengarellas are holding the lead with 17 points each. And City Bar is not far off the pace with 15. Osborn Barbers hold third with 14 points.

Both Gengarellas and Owls Club dropped two of three games Monday, but Turf Bar took advantage of the opportunity and won two of its three games and slipped into the three-way tie.

Top games rolled Monday included Zagula 224, John Mills 221 and P. Lascola 220. Ike Shannon had the top series mark with a 600 and showed games of 213 and 208.

City Tournament Starts Saturday . . .

THE EAST LIVERPOOL Bowling Association's 14th annual tournament will get under way this weekend on the Walnut St. lanes.

Some 20 teams are entered to date, with the deadline for entries midnight Friday, Claude Ruckman, secretary of the association, announced.

The tourney will be run off on the weekends and continue until March 22. T.S. & T. is the defending champion.

Ties are plentiful this week with the Seaboard and Frank Diamonds knotted in the City Ten Pin League at 14 all. Globe Brick winner of the previous round is in second place with 12 points.

West Virginia turned in a 2,241 total to Purdue's 2,218. Deadlocked in the Little League at the Head-pin Alleys in East End are Koerber Brothers and Gene's Bar, 14-14, while Owl's Club with 13 is attempting to sneak into first place.

CLENDENNING fired a 242 to feature bowling in the American League. Other top games showed Boyd with a 225 and Marty Fridrick with a 215.

The local Elks bowling team lost at Uhrichsville Sunday but still maintained first place in the Elks Bowling League.

Uhrichsville compiled a 2,968 total to locals' 2,902. Mike Gerace fired a 216 and 586 series. Ed Sisley showed a 201 and finished with a 591 series.

Splits To Spares . . .

SPLITS MADE this week showed Joe Burcham with the 4-10, Norm Mattern 2-7 and Chickie Brookes 5-10 in the Review League.

National League bowlers converting splits were George Lewis, the 5-8-10, Chuck Spencer 5-7, Early 5-6 and Fridrick 5-6 and 4-9.

Tucson Open Starts Today

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Par is expected to take one of its worst batterings of the year during the $15,000 Tucson open that starts today.

The par 35-35—70 El Rio course holds no mysteries for the touring pros. Thirty four of the 52 who played in the pro-amateur Wednesday smashed par. Another 3 had 70s.

Mike Souchak of Grossinger, N.Y. and Stan Leonard, Vancouver, B.C., gave a hint of things to come with 7 under par 63s.

Souchak predicted it would take one of the lowest 72 hole totals of 1959 to take the top prize of $2,000 —if the desert wind doesn't blow.

"This is one of the easiest courses we'll play all year," Souchak said. "The greens are in remarkably good condition. You'll have to shoot at least 15 under par, perhaps more, to win."

Many of the pros call this 6,434-yard layout a pitch and putt course. But Souchak is among those who think the longest and straightest driver will have an edge.

Art Wall Jr., Pocono Manor, Pa. is generally picked as favorite. In 24 rounds of tourney play this year he has gone over par only 3 times. He had a 68 Wednesday.

Lane Would Like Shot At Brown's Title

MUSKEGON, Mich. (AP) — Kenny Lane figures the time is ripe for him to take Lightweight Champion Joe Brown's title away.

The No. 1 lightweight contender watched Brown's successful defense against Johnny Busso Wednesday night on television in his Muskegon home.

"I think I could beat him now," Lane said.

The Muskegon southpaw dropped a close decision in a championship bout with Brown last summer at Houston.

Lane said the 33-year-old champion used a new approach in beating Busso.

"He didn't do much pressing," said Lane. "He laid back and waited and counterpunched. I noticed he tired near the end of the round. But it was his fight all the way.

"Brown's not getting any younger. A younger guy who sets a good pace should beat him."

Lane won't be 27 until April. He hopes to get Brown back in the ring in June or July.

Regional Wrestling Tourney Set To Open Friday At M-A

17 Matmen Show Undefeated Marks

At least 17 undefeated wrestlers will put their perfect marks on the line during the regional wrestling tournament to be run off Friday and Saturday at Memorial Auditorium.

It marks the first time that this event has been held in East Liverpool. A classy field of 15 teams will vie for the title.

Bridgeport, defending champ seeking its fourth straight regional title, is the heavy favorite. Boasting a 12-0 season mark, the Bridgets also have six undefeated wrestlers in their ranks.

Heading the field of some 150 wrestlers will be Bridgeport's Art Hehr, a defending state champion who hasn't been defeated in two years. Hehr was the 127 - pound Ohio champ in 1958.

The defending regional champs are particularly strong in the lighter weights, from 106 pounds to 148.

In addition to Hehr at 130 pounds, the squad includes John Porter (106), Frank Cunningham (123) and Ed Brown (141), all with 11-0 records. Hehr, Bob Douglas (115) and Walt Tolarchyk (148) show 12-0 marks.

Another lightweight, Mickey Bella at 136 pounds, sports a 10-1 record.

East Liverpool will pin its hopes on Bill O'Neil at 178. He is the lone unbeaten wrestler on the Potter squad. Coach Lou Venditti said O'Neil is nursing a rib injury suffered last Friday at South Side.

In addition to O'Neil, Venditti said that Nick Musuraca at 157 pounds, with a 9-1 record, and Bob Springer, a 141 - pounder, should be among the finalists.

The rest of the boys are "inexperienced", Venditti said.

Some of the attention during the two-day tourney will be focused on Carl Hoppel, Beaver Local's freshman star. He will have a chance to join his brothers, who won regional and state titles while performing for the Potters.

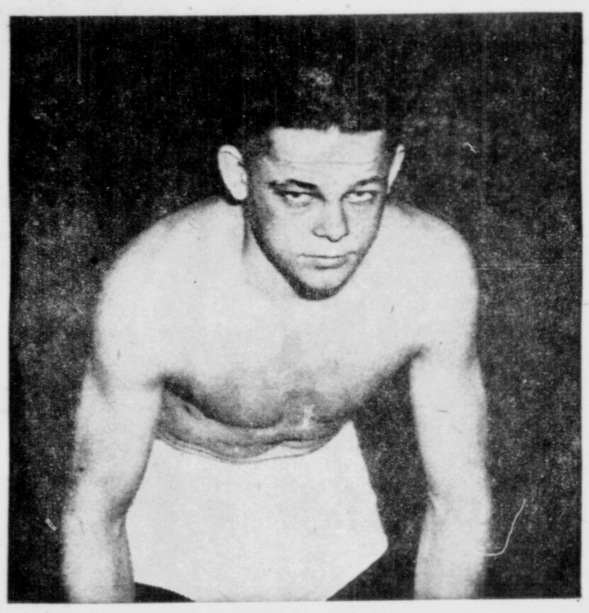

Hoppel has 18 straight victories while wrestling at 123 pounds. Only a freshman, he has the record for the quickest pin of 20 seconds at Beaver Local and last weekend captured the 123-pound title during a tournament held at Hiram College.

Martins Ferry also sports three wrestlers with clean slates. Bill Ackerman and Keith Sommer have 16-0 records and Ronny Binns has recorded 12 straight victories.

Ackerman wrestles at 157, Sommer 178 and Binns 168.

North Canton, considered the top wrestling squad in its area, has Larry Perkins, a 157-pounder with an 11-0 mark, and Ken Knoch, 130 pounds, 3-0.

Three Canton McKinley wrestlers also will bring unblemished marks here — Silas Carter (115) and Dan Mussulin (157) at 7-0 and Joe Williams, stocky 178-pounder, 6-0.

Bridgeport Squad Favored To Repeat

The following teams will participate: Bridgeport, Barnesville, Beaver Local, Brilliant, Canton Central, Canton Lincoln, Canton McKinley, North Canton, Canton Timken, Glenwood, Louisville, Martins Ferry, Steubenville, Springfield and East Liverpool.

Merrill Hall, tournament director, said that the weigh-in for the preliminary round will be held Friday from 10 a. m. to noon, followed by a coaches meeting at 2 p. m.

The preliminary round will get under way at 2:30. Three mats will be used and some 60 matches will be run off during the preliminaries.

Quarter-finals are Friday night, with semi-finals Saturday at 1:30 p. m. and finals Saturday at 8.

Student tickets are 50 cents and adult tickets $1 for the two-day tournament.

Ceneviva Nets 27 Points

Chester Gains Fifth Win, Holds First In City Loop

Paced by Buddy Ceneviva's 27 points, Chester won its fifth game in six starts to remain in first place in the City Basketball League Wednesday night at the East Junior High School.

Chester pulled away to a 74-55 victory over Wheatley's while Alex's Carry-Out defeated Local 5047, 58-53.

In another contest, league officials will meet to decide on the outcome of the contest between Hune Co. and Chuck Kennedy's.

A mechanical failure of the clock was blamed for giving Kennedy's additional time to score a field goal which tied the game at 56-56. If it is ruled that time had expired Hune Co. will be declared the winner, 56-54.

Ceneviva was uncanny with his one-hand jump shot as he poured in 13 field goals and one foul for his total which is one of the top marks of the season.

Ted Robinson added 20 points to the Chester attack while Pete Johnson hit for 14.

Keith Bishop tossed in 14 points to pace Wheatley's.

Bob Johnson contributed 20 points for the winners on some deadly set shots while Bob Bingham added 16 points for the losers.

After a 15-15 first period tie, Alex's led the rest of the way with a 29-21 halftime margin and 47-33 after three periods.

$3 Billion Bet At U.S. Racing Track In '58

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — The National Assn. of State Racing Commissioners announced Wednesday $3,038,654,310 was wagered at the nation's race tracks during 1958.

The association said of that amount, states' taxes amounted to $222,049,651, the largest amount ever taken in tax since the association began record keeping in 1934.

States' tax in 1957 was $216,747,621, the association said.

Largest state tax last year was that of New York at $81,459,392 with California second at $27,110,235.

ST. MORITZ, Switzerland (AP) —West Germany's Franz Schelle today shattered his own record on the Olympic bobsled track here in official training for the four-man world championships, establishing a new mark of 1:17.56. The championships start this weekend.

The previous record, which Schelle set in a trial run Wednesday, was 1:18.12.

St. Louis Extends Chain Of Wins To 15 Games In Row

By DON WEISS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The way his St. Louis basketball team is playing, the only problem Coach John Benington has these days is getting people to spell his name right.

His Billikens have a winning streak of 13 games after Wednesday night's solid 72-53 victory over Bradley. He has developed a bunch in a season's time that may yet swipe the Missouri Valley Conference title from Cincinnati and the touted Oscar Robertson. He has in 6-8 Bob Ferry a scorer - rebounder he says he "wouldn't trade for any other big man in the country." And he is headed for a tournament—win or lose in the MVC.

"You spell it Benington, not Bennington," he sighs.

The crushing defeat of a Bradley team ranked No. 7 in the Associated Press poll put St.Louis into second place in the rugged Missouri Valley race. With a 15-2 overall mark, it had been quite a comeback for a mediocre-looking group that lost successive games to Kentucky and Cincinnati in their third and fourth games.

Texas Christian and Kansas State fattened their conference leads and Dartmouth poked its Ivy League nose in front in the night's other features.

TCU, regaining its two-game lead in the Southwest Conference, whipped Texas A&M 80-61 as H. E. Kirchner scored 31 points. Kansas State won its eighth straight in the Big Eight for an 18-1 season record, trimming Kansas 82-72 as Bob Boozer scored 33. Dartmouth's winning streak reached 11 and its Ivy mark went to 8-0 in a 71-50 breeze over Harvard. Princeton, 7-0, was idle.

Frank Case scored 34 points, 25 in the second half, in Dayton's 88-69 victory over DePaul, and NIT bound Villanova ran its record to 15-4 by spilling Canisius 57-48.

Other NIT and NCAA contenders boosting their prestige were St.Joseph's (Pa), an 80-77 victor over Penn for a 15-3 ledger; St.Bonaventure (14-1) in a 72-68 decision over its only conquerer, St.Francis (Pa); LaSalle (12-5) over Georgetown (DC) 102-72; and Oklahoma City (17-4) over St. Mary's (Tex) 87-69.

Marshall's Leo Byrd, the nation's No. 2 major scorer, failed to hit his average but scored the winning basket with four seconds left to beat Ohio U. 74-73. Byrd scored 27 points and his average dipped to 29 compared to Oscar Robertson's leading mark of 32.5.

Fordham, an outsider in tournament consideration, made it 12-5 with an 89-50 rout of CCNY; Yale beat Brown 78-67; Bowling Green topped Toledo 77-68; and Navy and Army won afternoon games.

Jay Metzler and Hank Egan each scored six points in overtime for Navy's 68-58 triumph over Penn State. Sophomore Lee Sager's 21 points triggered Army's 91-72 decision over Delaware.

Jerry West, West Virginia's basketball star, averaged 17.8 points per game during the 1957-58 season.

Joe Brown Retains Lightweight Championship With Ease

Busso Drops Title Bout By Wide Margin

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Joe Brown, an aging fighting machine that hasn't started to creak, beat young Johnny Busso with comparative ease Wednesday night, then said he wanted another fight real soon.

The world's lightweight champion, defending his title for the sixth time in two years, declared he would meet Busso again "or anyone Manager Lou Viscusi lines up," but he just wanted action.

"I get rusty when I'm inactive," said the skinny little Baton Rouge, La., Negro, who hasn't been very inactive except that he tried an overweight fight with Busso in Miami four months after his last defense of the title—and lost.

But Brown showed no effects of inactivity as he whipped Busso by a wide margin in 15 rounds.

A crowd of 11,033—the largest ever to see a fight in Texas — watched the little dark destroyer throw a blasting right that knocked the strong young man from New York through the ropes in the ninth round. Throughout the fight Brown kept his right working overtime. Busso's face was a bloody mask at the finish.

Busso's nose bled from the third round on, smearing Brown's trunks with bright red. Brown also cut Busso's cheek with a stinging left hook and he had one of Busso's eyes almost closed in the last round.

Busso pressed the fight until the late rounds when he appeared to be a most weary youngster.

The crowd paid $61,155 — more than $8,000 under the record set by the Brown-Kenny Lane fight last July here — and with $40,000 from television, total receipts came to $101,155. Brown got 40 per cent and Busso 20.

Brown weighed 134 pounds while Busso was a fraction under 135.

Hawks, Celts Nearing Titles

By The Associated Press

There isn't much of a plot left in the National Basketball Assn. not with St. Louis leading the Western Division by 15 games and Boston the East by 10.

When will first place in each division be decided?

For St. Louis, it can happen by winning the next three games. Second-place Minneapolis can help by losing its next three. Or any combination of three St. Louis wins or Minneapolis losses bags the Hawks' third straight Western Title.

Boston has more of a wait. Any combination of Boston victories or second-place New York defeats totalling seven gets Boston its third consecutive Eastern title.

Boston's Celtics took a 120-118 victory over Philadelphia Wednesday night to reduce the magic number to seven. St. Louis wasn't scheduled but Minneapolis didn't help by knocking off Cincinnati 106-105 in a game in San Francisco. The Detroit Pistons defeated Syracuse in the only other game, 118-114 in overtime.

St. Louis faces New York tonight and Minneapolis plays Cincy at Portland, Ore. The Hawks number could come down to one with a victory, and a Laker loss.

Bill Sharman's basket as the final buzzer sounded gave the Celts their victory. Bob Cousy led the Celts with 31 points and rookie Guy Rodgers paced Philly with 27.

Elgin Baylor dropped in two last second fouls to give the Lakers their second straight victory over the Royals. Jack McCarthy paced the Royals with 31 points.

Only 2,723 turned out for San Francisco's second NBA game in history. A Cow Palace crowd of 13,562 watched Boston and Minneapolis earlier in the season.

Johnny Kerr led the Nats with 33 points while Phil Jordon had 30 for Detroit.

New York And LA Listed Favorites For Title Match

LOS ANGELES (AP) —Boxing promoter Bill Rosensohn says New York and Los Angeles are co-favorites at 8-5 odds for his heavyweight title fight between Floyd Patterson and Ingemar Johansson.

On the basis of what he has observed so far, Rosensohn would rate Minneapolis as a 2½-1 shot; San Francisco 5-1; Chicago 8-1; Colorado Springs and Philadelphia 10-1; Indianapolis 20-1.

Rosensohn saw Los Angeles' new sports arena for the first time Wednesday and came up with an idea of staging the bout there to a limited crowd of 22,000 at a minimum price of $20. He said the crowd could be seated to produce an $800,000 gross, and that he could by closed circuit television show it to a crowd in the adjacent Memorial Coliseum at $5 a seat.

Rosensohn goes to San Francisco tonight to study a site there for the proposed July 10 fight.

Fastest Miler Expects To Lose Few Races

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The world's fastest miler, Herb Elliott of Australia, says he expects to lose a few races this year.

"I'm mentally prepared for that," Elliott told interviewers Wednesday. "After all, 1958 was a big year for me and I want to make the Olympic Games of 1960 another."

Elliott received the Helms Foundation world trophy Wednesday night at a dinner in his honor. He leaves for Australia Friday.

Let Past Performances Tell Story, Casey Says

By CASEY STENGEL
New York Yankees

GLENDALE, Calif. (AP) — The New York Yankees were good enough to win by 11 games and then, after being down three games to one in the series, came back to win three in a row to regain the world championship.

Since the Yankees of today are the same club I guess you know the club as well as I do.

Now don't let these first two paragraphs fool you. We aren't just sitting back getting over-confident. That's not the Yankee way. We led the league by 17 games last Aug. 2. But we played under .500 ball the last two months of the season.

Our defense, both outfield and infield, left a lot to be desired. Our pitching staff was unhealthy. Whitey Ford, Don Larsen and Tom Sturdivant had arm difficulties. Ryne Duren was beaned, then suffered some knee trouble and Sturdivant sustained a badly spiked heel. Our long lead saved us.

Now we have reason to believe most of these troubles are over with. We have a lot of fine young prospects coming up who may win places on this year's club, if any of the veterans falter. If the kids on the farms are ready, they'll play ball with us next season.

Detroit and Cleveland, in particular, look stronger. The Tigers, always tough for the Yankees, have improved the depth of their pitching staff with the additions of Ray Narleski and Don Mossi. Billy Martin and Jim Piersall are bound to help Cleveland.

Chicago came up fast, while we were slumping last season. Boston, too, will be tough.

Baltimore, Kansas City and Washington will continue to make trouble. Those clubs won 27 games from us while losing 39.

While I'm concerned with the improvement of the other clubs, I'm not apologizing for the Yankee squad. We've got a lot of infielders from last year plus a fine second baseman in Cletis Boyer.

Mickey Mantle and Hank Bauer are two solid men. I'm looking for Mickey to improve in his average and for him to knock in 100 runs.

We have a happy position behind the plate. Elston Howard developed rapidly last year. Yogi Berra is far from through and will see plenty of service behind the plate, possibly at first base and in the outfield. Young Johnny Blanchard appears ready to stick with the team as a utility catcher.

I hope to give the Yankee fans another championship club in 1959.

Moore-Robinson Lightheavy Title Match Is Hinted

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Truman Gibson reportedly is due here this week. . . Sugar Ray Robinson is quoted as saying he is coming to Miami "for a rest." . . . Jack Kearns lives in Miami Beach.

What does all this add up to? The speculation hereabouts is that it might mean a light heavyweight championship bout between titleholder Archie Moore and Middleweight Champion Robinson very well could be signed, sealed and readied for delivery before many days.

It could be merely a coincidence, but the three men who could make such a bout materialize will be here at the same time. And if Jim Norris, former president of the court-curbed International Boxing Club, still is in the picture, he happens to live here.

Robinson is pretty much his own boss when it comes to making his fights. Kearns is co-manager of the ancient Moore.

Gibson still heads the IBC, which the Supreme Court has ruled is a monopoly. The ruling ordered the breaking up of the organization. That does not mean that one of the segments remaining after the dissolution could not promote a fight.

Indians Sign Pitcher

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Indians have signed Terry Baller, former Willoughby High School pitcher. He reports March 15 to the Tribe's minor league spring training camp in Daytona Beach, Fla. Baller, an 18-year-old right-hander, is expected to be assigned to Batavia, N. Y.

Pitt Athletic Head Says New Loop Likely

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Athletic Director Tom Hamilton of the University of Pittsburgh says it is quite likely that a new national college football conference will be formed.

Hamilton made the statement at a luncheon Wednesday before the Oakland Chamber of Commerce. He declined to estimate how soon such a conference will take shape.

Among the teams reported interested are Pitt, Penn State, Army, Navy, Notre Dame, Syracuse, Southern California, UCLA, California, Washington, the Air Force Academy and possibly Stanford.

Byrd Tallies Winning Goal To Nip Ohio U.

By The Associated Press

Poor Kenyon. Poor Toledo, too, for that matter. It was a bitter time for them Wednesday night in college basketball action.

Kenyon, way down there in the sub-basement of Ohio Conference standings, dropped still another game, this one a 93-51 verdict to Wooster. It was Kenyon's ninth straight conference loss and 13th defeat of the season. The school has won one game in non - loop play, but still has a fat zero in conference action.

Toledo, on the other hand, has tasted victory from time to time this season (8-9), but Wednesday night's 77-68 loss to Bowling Green was particularly distasteful since it was the sixth straight in a long series with the Falcons. The win gave Bowling Green a 32-34 edge over Toledo in the series.

Ohio teams came out on the short end of things in three intersectional games. Umpteen hundred miles away in a place called Bozeman, Mont., Xavier bowed to Montana State 93-81. At home in Dayton, the Flyers powdered Depaul 88-69. And at Athens, Marshall of West Virginia squeezed out a 74-73 victory over Ohio U. The winning basket was pumped in with just four seconds remaining by Leo Byrd, the nation's second leading scorer, who gathered in a total of 27 points—two below his average.

In other cage action, Ohio Northern defeated Denison 102-95 in overtime, and Akron Goodyear of the NIBL, whipped Youngstown 114-103.

Jensen Balks, Seeks $40,000

BOSTON (AP)—Jackie Jensen's refusal to accept two contract offers today was blamed on stubborness and "the Williams things" by Bucky Harris, general manager of the Boston Red Sox.

Jensen, 1958 American League most valuable player, reportedly is seeking $40,000.

Though the Red Sox never announce salary figures, Jensen made approximately $27,500 last season. He has mailed back unsigned contracts estimated at $32,500 and $35,000.

Slugger Ted Williams, Jensen's outfield mate, is ticketed for upwards of $125,000 for the second straight season.

"Jensen doesn't own this ball club," Harris said. "The Williams thing is causing the trouble."

Bucky indicated he felt Jensen would sign the second document because it was close to the figure Jackie had specified.

But Jensen has been quoted from his West Coast home as saying "it wasn't what I asked for and I mean to get it."

Otto (Sparky) Bluege, who played as an infielder with the 1933 Cincinnati Reds, is a scout for the Washington Senators.

Jack Sanford Checks Into Giants' Camp

"Those Giants last year really swung that stick."

Nine members of the National League third place winners of 1958 checked into the Buckhorn Spa near here Wednesday for preliminary conditioning. Three are newcomers, two of them pitchers upon whom the club strongly counts this season.

Jack Sanford, the righthander who came to the Giants in the trade that sent Ruben Gomez to Philadelphia, commented, "I sure hope I can help this club. Sometimes I didn't think last year I was pitching as well as in my first season, but my curve was actually better."

Sanford posted a 19-8 record with Philadelphia as the league's rookie of the year in 1957 and had a 10-13 mark last season.

Also in their first year as Giants, coming via a trade, are relief pitcher Billy Muffett and catcher Hobie Landrith from the St. Louis Cardinals.

Muffett was 3-2 with St. Louis on being called up in 1957 after winning 14 for Houston in the class AA Texas League.

Sanford and Muffett gave identical answers when asked at different times, "What did you think of the club when you faced it last season?"

"Those Giants really swung that stick," they said.

Landrith declared Sanford and Muffett could mean a big difference in the club's hurling this season.

Spillane Puts TV Scripts On Shelf

Inasmuch as Mickey Spillane, the man of literary fury, feels the will to write only "when I'm broke," it's assumed that he's been on his uppers of late because he took to his typewriter recently and pounded out potential formats for a couple of TV series.

Marie Torre

Then, instead of placing said formats on the open television market, Spillane did a surprising thing; he deposited the outlines in a trunk. Maybe he wasn't hungry enough.

But there's no "maybe" about his reasons.

"I'm going to forget the shows for awhile," Spillane reported. "I'm going to forget them until I find a guy in TV, a producer, who's not like most other TV people, those incompetent know-nothings, and can do justice to an idea of mine. I'm not buying aggravation."

DOES ONE READ, between his words, general dissatisfaction, perhaps, with the television adaptation of "Mike Hammer," that mythical dispenser of violent justice?

"Oh, no, I've nothing to do with that," rejoined Spillane. "I sold that property outright, wanted nothing to do with it, chiefly because it's filmed in Hollywood and I'm not a West Coaster.

"I watch the show sometimes, as a spectator. It's all right. It's going well, they tell me, but actually it's not my stuff. I feel about it as if somebody else wrote it."

Since "Hammer" has come in for widespread criticism because of the show's inherent qualities of vicarious terror, news of further Spillane projects might send shudders up the spines of viewers who are appalled at the profusion of violence that flickers across the TV screen hour after hour.

"I HAVE a reputation I don't deserve," he said, trying to drive home the point that he's not as gory as we all make him out to be.

"You must remember that I started a whole new trend in mystery writing—with a little sex and a little violence. The imitators, fully aware of my success, put into their stories a lot of sex and a lot of violence. And who got the reputation for the worst? Of course I did!"

Actually Spillane's ideas for television are devoid of brain-bashing action. One of them, for example, is called "The Man," and is based on the proposition that "big things happen to people by coincidence."

"We would show, in dramatic terms," explained Spillane, "that coincidence is what makes peoples' lives interesting. I personally would like to narrate the series, and we wouldn't need a permanent star.

"What I would like to try for is the same technique of introducing new characters as is used in comic strips. In many of the comics, you know, new characters are introduced each month and the old ones disappear."

It's Spillane's hope to produce "The Man" under the auspices of his own company one day, when he finds the TV producer who can interpret the story to his satisfaction.

Meanwhile, he's completing another "Mike Hammer" book, his first in six years. He didn't want to do it, but there's been a demand for it and "my publishers badgered me into it."

THEODORE GRANIK'S "Youth Wants To Know," in limbo since it drew an untimely cancellation from NBC three months ago, will be returned to the broadcasting scene this month by the Westinghouse Broadcasting Co. Under the new arrangement, WBC will schedule both "Youth" and "The American Forum of the Air," another Granik property, on its five TV stations, each once a month as local "specials" in prime evening time. The program will also be syndicated to other TV and radio stations. . . .

Debbie Reynolds has joined the starry lineup of "Some of Manie's Friends" (March 3, NBC), meaning she'll be professionally reunited with Eddie Fisher for the first time since the rift. . . .

Actors place much emphasis on the merits of "live" drama as opposed to film, but according to a Pulse survey, viewers hardly know the difference. One thousand viewers were polled in the matter, and 82 per cent said it made no difference in their viewing choice as to whether a program was "live" or filmed. . . .

Thumbing through a book of Tolstoy's works, we came across the introduction of his "Family Happiness," wherein the author referred to the story as "a wretched piece of work." For the sake of the U.S. Steel management, Miss Vanderbilt, and viewers, it's hoped the remark was merely an expression of modesty.

Privilege Tax Bill Due Vote

House OKs Measure On Minimum Wage

CHARLESTON (AP) — The 1959 Legislature's first passage vote on a general revenue tax bill was scheduled in the House today, midpoint of the 60-day session.

Up for House passage was a bill to extend the state's transportation privilege tax to airlines and water transportation companies. The tax at present applies chiefly to railroad and motor carriers.

Del. W. E. Chilton (D-Kanawha) said he introduced the bill not as a revenue measure but simply to bring about more equal tax treatment of competing carriers. He said the bill would yield only a small amount of revenue.

It was one of five bills at voting stage in the House. Five minor bills were up for Senate passage. The Senate's main business was at amendment stage, where 21 bills awaited attention. Both houses met at 2 p. m.

A bill to give the taxpayers free access to the records of agencies which they support also was up for House passage. The measure would require that all records of state, county and municipal governments be open for public inspection.

The House approved yesterday a Judiciary Committee amendment deleting a penalty provision from the open records bill. Under the provision, violation of the proposed law would have been a misdemeanor and cause for removal from office.

By a 79-17 margin, the House passed a minimum wage bill yesterday and sent it to the Senate. Opposition that had led to expectation of a closer vote was whittled down by amendments which somewhat diluted the bill's provisions.

Sixty-eight Democrats and 11 Republicans voted for the bill. Thirteen Democrats and four Republicans opposed it.

The bill calls for a minimum wage of 75 cents an hour in establishments with more than 10 employes. However, it does not apply to anyone now covered by the federal minimum wage law and several other classes of employment also would be exempt.

Bill Would Shift Off-Year Vote To May

CHARLESTON (AP) — A House-approved bill to shift West Virginia's off-year primary elections to May has been recommended for passage by the Senate Judiciary Committee.

Judiciary earlier had recommended that the bill be sent to the Joint Committee on Government and Finance, an interim group which does not meet when the Legislature is in session. But Judiciary changed its mind yesterday and reported the bill to the Senate floor with passage recommended.

Under present law, primaries are held in May in presidential election years and in August in off-years. The bill now in the Legislature calls for primaries to be held on the second Tuesday in May ever two years.

Polio Fund Containers Collected By VFW Post

March of Dimes coin containers collected from the city's business establishments Monday and Tuesday by Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 66 yielded $795.55 for the fight against polio, F. V. Martin, commander, reported today.

Final collection of the plastic cylinders mounted on a polio display card revealed that at least four still are missing, apparently stolen by someone posing as a March of Dimes official.

Martin announced that any city merchant or tavern owner who still has a coin container may call the VFW home and a member will arrange to pick it up.

CLEVELAND (AP) — Police were searching Cleveland's east side today for twin five-year-old sisters who have been missing since they left kindergarten classes Wednesday.

13 Counties In Indiana In State Of Emergency

PERU, Ind. (AP)—Anxious residents along the storied banks of the Wabash waited, worked and hoped today as they watched to see what the rampaging river would do next.

Hundreds of families already have fled from the swirling flood waters and hundreds more are threatened.

Gov. Harold W. Handley declared a state of emergency in 13 northern and central Indiana counties Wednesday night and telegraphed President Eisenhower asking that they be designated disaster areas.

Hardest hit was Peru, a northern Indiana city of 15,000. Nearly 500 families were moved from their homes here when the Wabash burst through sandbags and poured over two floodwalls at the north and south ends of town.

Soon after the floodwalls gave way, the river level began to drop slowly from its peak of 23.65 feet, a foot and a half over the floodwalls.

City officials were not sure whether the drop occurred because the crest had passed or because water was spreading out through the town.

"We can only wait and hope," said a worker.

No casualties were reported and the evacuation process went off smoothly with the help of state police, National Guardsmen and airmen from nearby Bunker Hill Air Force Base. Some city policemen worked two days and a night without rest.

"People here are so used to these floods that they have a standard procedure set up," explained Robert Tillet, chairman of the local Red Cross Disaster Committee. "They go straight to the homes of friends and relatives."

Most of the evacuation was on foot or by car and truck. Firemen in boats rescued about 50 stranded persons, including one young boy with a broken leg.

A mile-long ice jam about four miles downstream from Peru was cited as one of the major causes of the flood.

Demolition experts studied the possibility of trying to dynamite the jam, but an engineer, R. D. Walker, said he's never seen explosives take out a jam that size.

Ice also was the big problem farther downstream where it was feared conditions would grow worse as jams broke up or melted.

Wellsville Kaycee Gives $500 More For Teacher Aid

Wellsville Knights of Columbus Council 507 Tuesday night presented a check for $500 to Fr. William Lawler towards furthering the education of lay teachers for the Immaculate Conception Parochial School.

This is the second in a series of donations of the same amount presented for this purpose.

Plans were made to participate in the district corporate Communion Breakfast March 8 at East Palestine. Sam Amato, general program chairman, outlined the March programs. James J. Ross, grand knight, presided.

Betts, Ashbaugh Will Leave For Convention

Supt. Ralph W. Betts and C. Walter Ashbaugh, vice president of the Board of Education, will leave Friday to attend the American Association of School Administrators convention Saturday through Wednesday in Atlantic City.

An exhibit, including a scale model, photographs and drawings of Westgate School, will be among the displays shown the administrators. It was arranged by Firestone & Motter, Canton architects, who designed the building.

4 Motorists Forfeit In Wellsville Hearings

Four motorists, all cited by the State Highway Patrol, forfeited bonds when they failed to appear today before Mayor William J. Shoub of Wellsville for hearings.

Forfeiting were Clyde C. Moore of Toronto, $10 for following too close; William G. Ketchum, 998 Main St., Wellsville, $15 for failure to stop in the assured clear distance; E. D. Conger of East Liverpool R. D. 2, $15 for insufficient brakes, and Allen G. Weltner of Georgetown, $25 for reckless operation.

400 To Be Recalled

LORAIN, Ohio (AP)—The work force at U.S. Steel Corp.'s national tube division plant here will be increased to 9,100 with the recall of 400 workers within the next few days because of increased production in the coke plant and pipe mill operations.

Coast Guard Unit Hears Talk By McKeesport Man

Capt. R. W. Parkins of McKeesport was guest speaker at a meeting of Flotilla 7 of the Coast Guard Auxiliary Wednesday night at the Hall China Foreman's Club.

He displayed a new dry chemical fire extinguisher which has been approved by the Coast Guard. A small auxiliary pennant also was shown. It is for use on boats 20 feet or shorter.

Capt. Parkins also displayed a respirator which eliminates the old method of giving artificial respiration. It is a plastic tube about 10 inches long, which is placed in the victim's mouth. A person then breaths into the tube, forcing air into the victim's lungs, he explained.

Victor Carosiello, commander, presided. Paul Rowland, training officer, gave instruction on the care and mounting of an outboard motor, lubrication, proper mooring and the proper way to anchor a boat. The anchor line should be seven times the depth, he said. He also discussed the organization of the Coast Guard.

The next meeting will be Feb. 25.

The program will conclude with an exchange of valentines and refreshments.

The Elkton School Mothers Club will meet Friday afternoon at 1 at the school.

Members of the WSCS of the Methodist Church were guests of the Lisbon WSCS Tuesday night for a smorgasbord dinner.

Pvt. Richard Scroggs, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Scroggs, has been transferred from Ft. Knox, Ky., to Ft. Dix, N. J., and is slated to go to Germany soon.

Mr. and Mrs. Muron McCammon and children were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Thompson of Louisville.

Saturday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Dickey included Mr. and Mrs. Harley Morlan, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Whan, Mrs. Jennie Morris and Mrs. Pearl Armstrong, all of Lisbon.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Lonas and family of Clairton spent Sunday with her mother, Mrs. John Booth.

Mr. and Mrs. Nett Wolfe visited their daughter, Mrs. Dan Eells, of Sebring Saturday.

Kenneth Dixon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Dixon, is a patient at Salem City Hospital following an emergency appendectomy Friday.

Bids Are Asked

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (AP)—Bids on a contract for three new buildings at the Clinton County Air Force Base near Wilmington, Ohio, were asked Wednesday by the Huntington District U. S. Engineers. The bids, covering an operations building, an industrial building and a warehouse, will be opened about March 18.

Bullet Wound Fatal

CINCINNATI (AP)—Mrs. Hattie Hayes, 40, died Wednesday night of a bullet wound in the head. She was shot Feb. 1 in her home. Police said the bullet fired by Harold Burton, 44, was intended for another person in the house.

Newark's Water Shortage Eases

NEWARK, Ohio (AP)—Newark's water shortage eased somewhat today and prospects are bright for an early return to normal. Bursting of a waterworks dam Wednesday had placed this city of more than 35,000 in a serious predicament.

Waterworks Supt. Harvey Loy said work is progressing satisfactorily on a temporary coffer dam which stores municipal water on the north fork of the Licking River. The dam which burst was weakened by floods in January.

Loy said he hopes sufficient water will be stored by late today for the pumps to begin operating. Pressure has already been built up in the mains to 70 pounds, compared to the normal 110 pounds.

To ease residents over the shortage, water from private wells is being pumped into the mains.

And as workers hurried to rebuild the dam several hundred citizens attended a meeting of City Council Wednesday night and watched councilmen reverse themselves on a city income tax proposal.

Earlier in the week the council had refused, by a vote of 6-3, to consider action on the income tax, calling for a ½ per cent tax for two years. Wednesday night Council voted 5-4 to present the proposal for a vote at its next session.

The tax would raise about $800,000 a year. Officials estimate that it will take about one million dollars to repair damage, including that caused by January's floods.

Gov. Michael V. DiSalle visited the city Wednesday night and ordered State Highway Department workers here to help pump water into the mains. He also asked the State Health Department to make certain the water is not contaminated.

Adj. Gen. Loren G. Windom will try to clear up any legal difficulties to allow the city obtain emergency flood relief, DiSalle said.

The Ohio Civil Defense Corps has been trucking in water to help relieve the shortage.

Workers labored around the clock to build a coffer dam at the waterworks. It is hoped that the dam will trap enough water so that the level can reach intake pipes leading to the city's water mains.

Some 16 million gallons of water rushed through the gap when the waterworks dam collapsed. It forced the closing or partial closing of two manufacturing plants. Schools also closed along with many smaller businesses.

Kaycee Chaplain Airs Lenten Plans

Plans for the Lenten season were outlined by Fr. Thomas G. Mulhearn, assistant pastor of St. Aloysius Catholic Church and chaplain of Carroll Council 509, Knights of Columbus, at its meeting Tuesday night in the K. of C. Home.

During Lent, Fr. Mulhearn will speak at the weekly meetings on a Lenten theme.

Arrangements were discussed for the St. Patrick's Day observance on March 17. James Buchheit, grand knight, who conducted business, will head the committee in charge of the observance.

Participation was planned in the district Communion breakfast to be given March 1 at 10 a. m. at Our Lady of Lourdes Church in East Palestine.

Lunch was served by a committee headed by Sam Scafide.

The next meeting will be Tuesday night.

Army Weather Balloon Soars To New Record

FT. MONMOUTH, N.J. (AP)—An Army Signal Corps weather balloon set an altitude record for balloons of 146,000 feet. That's almost 28 miles.

The Signal Corps said it tops by several thousand feet the previous high for a balloon, either manned or unmanned.

The ascent was made here Jan. 30 to test an improved synthetic fiber. The Signal Corps announced it Wednesday.

A special radio equipped "hypsometer" attached to the balloon measured the altitude. It is accurate to a fraction of 1 per cent, the Signal Corps said.

The balloon instruments recorded a low of 85 degrees below zero at 10 miles. It was a mild 40 above at 146,000 feet. The trip took just over two hours.

Foreign Ministers Confer

Britain Seen Set To Okay Proposal To Free Cyprus

LONDON (AP) — Britain appeared ready today to clinch an early agreement with Greece and Turkey aimed at bringing peace and independence to Cyprus.

The foreign ministers of the three nations met for 3½ hours Wednesday night discussing details of an accord that would end 81 years of British rule over the East Mediterranean island.

Turkish Foreign Minister Fatin Rustu Zorlu, on emerging from the dinner with British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd and Greek Foreign Mister Evanghelos Averoff, was asked if he expected a settlement to be reached.

"We hope so," he replied.

The three were to meet again today.

Zorlu and Averoff flew to London from Zurich immediately after their prime ministers agreed there on principles of a constitution to make the disputed British island colony a republic.

Averoff and Zorlu were pressing the British for an early meeting of all three governments—possibly attended by the three prime ministers—to seal the agreement finally. It was not known how, or at what point, the Cypriots themselves would be consulted.

No date was mentioned so far for the meeting or for an independence target. The British Parliament must ratify any settlement. The Greek and Turkish parliaments must also be consulted.

The blessings of Archbishop Makarios, exiled Greek Orthodox primate of the crown colony, strengthened the hands of the government leaders toward ending a dispute that has cost nearly 600 lives in Cyprus—142 of them British, including soldiers and civilians.

Makarios told newsmen in Athens Wednesday night the Greek-Turkish pact "lays the foundation for an immediate and final solution to the Cyprus issue considering that Cyprus will become an independent sovereign state."

The Cypriots themselves — both the Greek and Turkish communities — greeted the peace pact signed by the Athens and Ankara governments with a feeling of relief tempered by disappointment that their full aspirations were not met.

If you want to thaw frozen cod fillets enough to separate them before using, let the package of fish stand, opened, at room temperature for about 15 minutes.

West Virginian Drowns In Fall From Barge

NEW MARTINSVILLE, W. Va. (AP)—A Paden City man apparently drowned in the Ohio River Wednesday when he fell off a derrick barge at the construction site of West Virginia's three - million dollar bridge.

Authorities said Leo Kerns, about 35, stepped backward off the barge and disappeared in the river. He was a construction foreman.

The barge was being used in the construction of bridge piers. Searchers dragged the swift river until dark but the body was not found.

Rep. Hays Receives Apology For Tape Recording 'Slip-Up'

WASHINGTON — The State Department today apologized for failing to tell the House Foreign Affairs Committee in advance that it had tape-recorded evidence of an attack by Russian fighter pilots on an American transport plane.

Assistant Secretaries Livingston T. Merchant and William B. Macomber Jr. told the committee in secret session it was a "slip-up" and would not happen again.

Rep. Wayne L. Hays (D-O), who had accused the State Department of keeping congressmen in the dark on important foreign policy developments, said he was satisfied with the answer — "until the next time it happens."

Reliable sources said the Senate foreign relations committee also was not briefed on the tape-recording.

Hays said he told the two officials that visiting Soviet Deputy Premier Anastas Mikoyan would have gotten a "much different" reception on Capitol Hill if congressman had known about the tape recording. Mikoyan was entertained at lunch at the Capitol.

While in Washington, Mikoyan personally denied Soviet fighters had attacked and shot down the C130 transport after it wandered—or was lured—into Soviet Armenia last September.

Last week the State Department released a dramatic transcript which was said to be the conversation of the fighter pilots as they downed the American aircraft.

Hays said he first learned of the tape recording while watching a TV news program and was "more than mildly disturbed."

The congressman said the incident convinced him more than ever that the State Department's periodic secret briefings of the committee were a "farce."

There were 17 men aboard the American plane. The Russians returned six bodies but have not accounted for the other 11.

The Army - Navy - Air Force Register, a non-official publication, said in its current issue that the State Department took a "calculated risk" that it could save the 11, if they were still alive, by making public the evidence of the Soviet attack.

Dealers To Fight Gasoline Tax Hike

Hancock County gasoline dealers are awaiting notice of a public hearing at Charleston on a proposed gas tax increase about which a delegation registered a protest at the capital earlier this week.

Blaine Dotson of Carolina Ave., Chester, said he and four other county dealers conferred with legislative leaders and Gov. Cecil Underwood about the proposed tax which is slated to help pay for a planned $50 million road improvement program.

Dotson, president of the Chester, Newell and New Cumberland Retail Gasoline Dealers Association, said there is already a 6-cent state tax and 3 cents federal tax on each gallon. West Virginia dealers are put to unfair sales competition with dealers in other states where prices are lower, and West Virginia motorists must pay a disproportionate price for fuel, he said.

Dotson said over 300 state dealers plan to attend the hearing to be scheduled shortly. He was accompanied by Don Chaney and C. M. Dingess, also of Chester.

D. 1, hit the rear of his car, officers said. Kelley was charged with following too closely. Damage was minor, the patrol said.

Kin Of Famed Figure Named By Lincoln

JOPLIN, Mo. (AP) — There aren't many men around anymore who can claim, like George Earp, that their names were chosen by Abraham Lincoln.

George, now a healthy and alert 94 years old, is a first cousin of famed frontier Marshal Wyatt Earp and once was a deputy under Wyatt.

George told reporter Tom Osterloh of the Joplin Globe Wednesday how he got his name from the 16th president of the United States.

George Earp's father, the Rev. John Douglas Earp, first met Lincoln in Kentucky where both were employed splitting rails. They became good friends and later moved to Illinois at the same time.

The Rev. Mr. Earp then moved to Lamar, Mo., and became a circuit preacher for the Southern Methodist Church.

Lincoln was president when Earp was imprisoned on charges he supported the Confederacy. The President ordered him released.

Later, a group of ministers were jailed on similar charges and the Rev. Mr. Earp went to Washington to seek Lincoln's aid in freeing them.

"Our new son has not yet been named," Earp told the President. "Would you select a name for him?"

Lincoln's reply: "Name him George Washington."

How Can I? ? ?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I take proper care of winter geraniums?

A. Geraniums should not be kept too warm or watered too much for winter blooming. They should be kept just wet enough so that the ground looks dry most of the time; and they do best in full sunlight.

Q. How can I make curtains hang evenly after laundering?

A. Slip curtain rods through the lower hems and leave them there for a few days. They will straighten the curtains.

Q. How can I give a little different flavor when baking an angel food cake?

Ike Proposes U.S. Increase Contribution

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower today urged Congress to approve immediately a $1,575,000,000 increase in this country's gold and dollar contribution to the International Monetary Fund, a 50 per cent increase.

In a special message, Eisenhower also asked a doubling of the United States subscription to the capital of the World Bank — from $3,175,000,000 to $6,350,000,000. This new quota, however, involves no cash outlay.

Other member nations are being asked to do the same.

The increases, unanimously recommended by the governing boards of the 68-nation financial institutions, are necessary to keep their resources abreast of expanding world trade and the rising demand for investment capital in underdeveloped lands, he said.

The big chunk of cash for the monetary fund would not unbalance Eisenhower's 77-billion-dollar budget for fiscal 1960 if Congress provides it as requested before July 1.

In his budget message sent to Congress last month, Eisenhower included the amount under projected spending before June 30. It is part of the $12,900,000,000 deficit he estimated for the current year.

President Leads Tribute

U.S. Observes Anniversary Of Lincoln's Birth Today

By The Associated Press

The nation today observed the 150th anniversary of the birth of Abraham Lincoln with both simple and elaborate ceremonies.

Meetings and celebrations honoring the Civil War president hit a peak for 1959, the Lincoln Sesquicentennial Year.

President Eisenhower led the tribute saying Lincoln belongs not only to the ages but to humanity.

A joint session of Congress was to be addressed by Carl Sandburg, Lincoln biographer, and hear actor Fredric March read the Gettysburg Address.

Eisenhower attended a memorial dinner Wednesday night in a Washington hotel. Two former chief executives—Herbert Hoover and Harry Truman—sent letters to be read at the gathering sponsored by the Lincoln Group of the District of Columbia.

President Eisenhower, sharing the speaking program with the Rt. Rev. Richard S. M. Emrich of the Episcopal Diocese of Michigan, said it was the hope of Americans and of freedom's sentinels everywhere that "the spirit of Lincoln be close at hand as we meet each successive challenge to freedom."

Eisenhower earlier quoted Lincoln in an appeal for governmental economy and a balanced budget.

He made the allusion in declaring Lincoln was against borrowing money and "an overwhelming, crushing system."

A strikingly appropriate observance in Springfield, Ill., where the 16th president first rose to national prominence, will hear a speech tonight by Mayor Willy Brandt of West Berlin. Brandt, free leader of a city in a divided country, will speak only a few blocks from where Lincoln made a speech on slavery that contained the line: "A house divided against itself cannot stand."

Besides Brandt, speakers include Ambassadors Sir Harold Caccia of Great Britain and Herve Alphand of France.

England itself will be the scene of several anniversary observances. Prime Minister Harold Macmillan will lay a wreath on behalf of the British government at the Lincoln statue in Parliament Square in London. Another wreath laying is scheduled in Manchester.

New one-cent Lincoln postage stamps go on sale today in Hodgenville, Ky., where he was born Feb. 12, 1809.

Snark Missile Fires As Space Group Watches

Fifteen members of the House Astronautics and Science Committee were on hand to watch a military crew fire the sleek Nothrop weapon at dawn.

The launching was part of the training phase for the Strategic Air Command's 556th Guided Missile Squadron. The 556th is expected to become the first operational Snark unit when it is assigned to a Presque Isle, Maine, base in several months.

Chairman Overton Brooks (D-La) and his committee had ringside seats as the 6,000-mile Snark blazed off.

The 69-foot Snark, capable of carrying a nuclear warhead, was designed to cover the long-range gap until more powerful ballistic missiles are ready.

The Snark has a comparatively slow speed of about 600 m.p.h. Northrop says it gets extreme accuracy from a self-contained guidance system.

South Korea Cabinet Discusses Grave Crisis

SEOUL (AP)—The South Korean Cabinet discussed the grave crisis with Japan at a three-hour emergency session today and Foreign Minister Cho Chung Whan said a "momentous decision" was made.

Relations between Japan and South Korea—two major U.S. allies in the Far East—have been strained almost to the breaking point by the Japanese Foreign Ministry's recommendation that Koreans in Japan who request repatriation to North Korea should be sent to the Communist territory.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Action Needed On Trimming Winter Weight

Do you feel bogged down and sort of in the winter doldrums? Are you willing to make the effort to get back in condition and back in shape? It will take a little doing on your part, but the rewards are oh, so worth it. In a few weeks you will begin to experience that wonderful feeling of euphoria.

Ida Jean Kain

On the weight score, exercise is the biggest variable in energy expenditure. Ironically, our easier way of life today is working against us.

Everything has been done to take the physical exertion out of daily living. The results are disastrous in terms of creeping pounds and lessened well-being.

A STUDY MADE at Harvard's School of Public Health comparing overweight and normal weight people reveals that, as a group, the overweights are less than half as active as their slimmer sisters and brothers.

The trouble is that the less we do, the less we want to do. Inertia sets in. We move no more than is lazily comfortable, and gradually less and less is comfortable.

Your individual exercise program will depend on your way of life. If you are a working girl—or man—and ride on public transportation, use this plan to fit in the needed exercise. Walk for 15 minutes before boarding your bus, or put the walk on the other end of the line, whichever seems more pleasant.

First off, you will have to will to walk, but ere long you won't want to forego it. The Chief Justice of the United States walks two miles to work daily.

The need for physical activity to cope with the stress and strain of modern living is receiving increasing emphasis by the medical profession. Dr. George Calver, attending physician for the Supreme Court and Congress, recommends a strightaway walk for an hour daily to counteract mental strain.

In this push button age, you homemakers, too, will have to go out of your way in order to get enough exercise to keep the big muscles of the body in bracing tone. Make it a point to walk someplace every day. Perhaps you can walk to and from the store when you have only a couple of packages to carry. Walking is a general body conditioner and a help in weight control.

WHEN IT COMES to slimming down in spots, there is nothing more effective than specific calisthenics. The secret is to take them daily, for 12 to 15 minutes. On the beauty score, exercise tightens up the muscles and stops the sagging.

Whether you walk for exercise, take calisthenics, play golf or do housework — keep your posture on the beam. The practice of good posture affords continual exercise.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Lincoln Was Advocate Of Simple Speech

The following story was once told by Lincoln to a friend who had asked him why he wrote and spoke so simply and clearly: "I never went to school more than six months in my life, but I can say this: that among my earliest recollections I remember how, when a mere child, I used to get irritated when anybody talked to me in a way I could not understand. "I do not think I ever got angry at anything else in my life; but that always disturbed my temper, and has ever since. I can remember going to my little bedroom, after hearing the neighbors talk of an evening with my father, and spending no small part of the night walking up and down and trying to make out what was the exact meaning of some of their, to me, dark sayings.

By Garry Meyers

"I COULD NOT sleep, although I tried, when I got on such a hunt for an idea, until I had caught it; and when I thought I had got it, I was not satisfied until I had repeated it over and over; until I had put in in language plain enough, as I thought, for any boy I knew to comprehend.

"This was a kind of passion with me, and it has stuck by me; for I am never easy now, when I am handling a thought till I have bounded it north and bounded it south, and bounded it east and bounded it west."

Lincoln's mother also read a great deal to him before he was six.

WHEN ABRAHAM Lincoln was President of the United States, Senator Charles Sumner called at the White House early one morning. He found President Lincoln shining his own shoes.

The amazed senator asked: "Why, Mr. President, you blacking your own shoes?"

The President replied, "Whose shoes did you think I was blacking?", adding: "I like to see a man proud of the place in which he lives...and live in it so that his place will be proud of him."

Last B36 Bomber Leaves Base To Become Memorial

EL PASO, Tex. (AP)—The last B36 bomber will roar out from Biggs Air Force Base here today on a flight to Fort Worth's Carter Field.

Then the big queen with the Sunday punch that was never used will be history. It will be a memorial in Fort Worth, where it was manufactured.

In its 10-year life span, the giant 10-engined (six props and four jets) bomber never saw action. But the Strategic Air Command credited the craft with preventing atomic war through its global readiness.

She was the first intercontinental bomber and could have bombed the Soviet Union from bases in the continental United States — and then gone on to land on friendly soil.

But although continually modernized with newer radar equipment, the big plane couldn't keep pace with the jet age.

In 1946 Russian forces seized much industrial equipment in Manchuria. The U. S. protested but Russia's defense was that it was "war booty."

Cincinnati Has First Bank Theft In Three Years

CINCINNATI (AP) — Cincinnati had its first bank robbery in three years Wednesday when a nervous gunman held up employes of the Bond Hill branch of the Fifth Third Union Trust Co., and escaped with $2,254.

Mrs. Viola Matzet, a teller at the bank, collapsed to the floor when she heard the bandit say: "This is a stickup—gimme your money, gimme your money" and saw the gun he was holding.

She remained on the floor while the holdup man forced Thomas Bell, assistant branch manager, to stuff money into a small bag.

Bell and Elmer Hafer, the branch manager, said the man appeared to be very nervous and kept waving the gun around.

"He acted as if he were mentally deficient," Hafer said.

Not Responsible To Me, DiSalle Says

State Treasurer Defends Self In Hiring Son, Others

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A published report that he hired his son as a $13,200-a-year aide brings this comment from State Treasurer Joseph T. Ferguson:

"There's no crime in that....If I want to employ more members of my family, I'll do it, if they can do the job."

A report in the same newspaper story that he hired a barber for $9,000-plus-a-year to supervise the state sales tax division, brings this remark:

"As I'm a great man for economy in government, I decided that maybe (his) experience as a barber made him just the type of man I needed to shave and cut the waste in state government...."

The story appeared in Wednesday's edition of the Cleveland Plain Dealer. Written by legislative correspondent Ray Dorsey, the story said Ferguson's son, Thomas, of Lima, was hired as a $13,200-a-year administrative assistant.

"Newspaper owners hire their sons. Bankers hire their sons. And manufacturers hire their sons," the Democratic official said Wednesday night. "So I don't know why the Cleveland Plain Dealer is having a hemorrhage about that."

The Plain Dealer story also reported that Ferguson hired a barber, O. P. Van Shoick, as sales tax division supervisor at an annual salary of more than $9,000 a year.

Ferguson said Van Shoick worked for him in the state auditor's department for 16 years as chief of the pre-audit of relief division. Ferguson was state auditor from 1937 to 1953.

Asked to comment on the appointments, Gov. Michael V. DiSalle said:

"Actually, I know nothing about it. The state treasurer is elected by the people and is not responsible to the governor. He's only responsible to the people. He's not responsible to me."

Special Unit Toils Secretly In Virginia

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — Secrecy cloaks the work of a special study commission as it lays the groundwork for a new course of action to minimize Virginia public school integration, now in progress in three localities and imminent in a fourth.

The 40-member Commission on Education met Wednesday for almost five hours behind closed doors. Most of the time apparently was spent listening to and questioning Gov. J. Lindsay Almond Jr. and Atty. Gen. Albertis S. Harrison Jr. on suggested approaches to containing public school race mixing, now that the massive resistance laws have been thrown out by state and federal courts. But there was no report on what went on.

A Textile Workers Union local has called a mass meeting of Warren County residents at Front Royal tonight to sound out sentiment on the reopening of the county's only high school next Wednesday on an integrated basis.

U.S. District Judge John Paul has ordered school officials to reopen Warren County High Feb. 18 and admit 22 Negroes.

Tomato Aspic Is Delight Of Calorie Counters

The cook looking for a tasty salad and the calorie counter searching for a protein-rich food will be rewarded when they serve Tomato Aspic, a simple combination of unflavored gelatin and tomato juice.

Even with the addition of celery, the calorie count is still negligible, while the nutritional and taste indicators are high.

Tomato Aspic

1¾ cups tomato juice, divided
¼ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
⅛ teaspoon Tabasco
2 tablespoons lemon or lime juice
1 cup shredded cabbage
½ cup diced celery
2 tablespoons chopped green pepper

Sprinkle gelatine on ½ cup of the tomato juice in saucepan to soften. Place over low heat, stirring constantly, until gelatine is dissolved. Remove from heat; add remaining 1¼ cups tomato juice, salt, sugar, Worcestershire sauce, Tabasco and lemon juice.

Chill until mixture is the consistency of unbeaten egg white. Fold in cabbage, celery and chopped green pepper. Turn into a 3-cup mold or individual molds. Chill until firm. Unmold on lettuce.

Yields six servings, 34 calories per serving.

Wetzel Bill Asks Pay For Squires

State Rep. Clarence (Dutch) Wetzel of Lisbon introduced legislation in the General Assembly Wednesday to pay justices of the peace who served without compensation in 1957.

Co-sponsored by three other members of House, the measure is designed to correct a situation created by a 1957 Supreme Court ruling.

Under a state law, justices of the peace in 1956 were changed from a fee system of pay to salaries set by county commissioners. The high court ruled this was an unconstitutional delegation of authority by the legislature.

The proposed bill would pay the justices on the basis of the old system with a limit set at $5,000.

He introduced another bill yesterday, which would permit township Boards of Trustees to employ legal counsel rather than use the service of the county prosecutor's office.

New Lincoln Penny Is Distributed Today

Distribution of the new Lincoln penny, featuring a view of the Lincoln Memorial at Washington, officially began today — Lincoln's birthday — but some coin collectors in the city already have obtained the 1959 one-cent pieces.

The new design on the reverse of the coin, which retains the old familiar profile of the President, will be permanent and marks the first really new change in the nation's pennies since 1909.

The Potters Bank & Trust Co. obtained $50 worth of the new pennies about a week ago and has sold most of the allotment, with only a few dollars worth left. A spokesman said they were obtained chiefly by coin collectors.

The new design shows the famous memorial as viewed from the front of the entrance. Above the memorial is the motto, "E Pluribus Unum," and above this, following the curve of the border, are the words, "United States of America." Below the memorial, also following the curve, is the denomination, "One Cent." The design is that of Frank Gasparro of the Philadelphia Mint.

Librarian Speaks To Lincoln Group

"The Functions and the Bes Use of the Library" was the topic of Miss Frances Jones, librarian at the Carnegie Public Library, at the meeting of the Lincoln Home and School Association Tuesday night. She was introduced by Robert Goodman, president, who conducted business.

Milton Watson, principal, spoke on the Child Counseling Center's dinner to be held March 6 at the First Church of Christ. He urged parents to attend.

Devotions were led by John Mostoller, minister of the First Church of Christ.

The attendance awards were won by Grade 3-A with Miss Helen Hannahs as teacher and Grade 4-A, Mrs. Beulah Spahr, teacher.

Refreshments were served 45 by the homeroom mothers of Grade 3-A.

The next meeting is March 10

Would End Long Walkout

Negotiators Reach Accord; Glass Workers' Vote Due

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A controversial proposal set fourth by a splinter group of union leaders and accepted by management will be placed before the 13,000 striking employes of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Co. next week.

Majority approval at the firm's nine plants, located in seven cities, would end the walkout, which is in its fifth month.

But there were indications that the surprise settlement, reached Wednesday at a time when negotiations were reported "up in the air," may not be ratified by the membership.

Sam Saloum, president of Local 14 of the United Glass and Ceramic Workers union at Ford City, Pa., where there are two company plants, said Wednesday night that in his opinion the conditional agreement will be vetoed by his group.

Terms of the settlement were not to be made public until after the balloting.

Under the union's constitution, each of the locals must turn in a majority vote for the contract before it is ratified.

Still another constitutional hassle may be in the works for the union.

Ralph Reiser, international president, dismissed the 19-man negotiating committee Wednesday after it had once again failed to reach agreement on the latest proposal.

The proposals had been outlined earlier in the day by a four-man federal mediation team. In brief, it listed the number of unresolved issues to be arbitrated.

Reiser and four other top union officers then used this outline for their final proposal which was accepted by management.

Saloum indicated his local disapproved of Reiser's dismissal of the union negotiating team. He said he understood the committee had voted 10-9 against acceptance of the mediators' proposal.

Reiser expressed confidence, however, that the proposed pact would be approved.

Wages have not been an issue in the long strike. Tentative agreement on a wage and pension package was reached soon after the strike began on Oct. 6. Such problems as incentive pay, production standards and a seniority issue at two Creighton, Pa., plants represented the crux of the dispute.

Word of a possible settlement was heartening news to some 20,000 furloughed workers at several Chrysler and American Motors plants. Both firms depend on the struck company for most of their automobile and truck glass.

In addition to Creighton and Ford City, the other plants are located at Henryetta, Okla.; Crystal City, Mo.; Mount Vernon, Ohio; Clarksburg, W. Va., and Cumberland, Md.

Senate Group Eyes Alleged Crime Parley

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Labor-Management Committee hoped to pierce today the secrecy that has surrounded an alleged crime convention held at Apalachin, N.Y., in 1957.

Chief counsel Robert F. Kennedy told reporters there would be testimony linking that meeting to the committee's charges that gangsters and corrupt labor leaders have conspired to seize control of the nation's lucrative coin machine industry.

Kennedy said the testimony would come from Lt. James Mooney, a New York City police detective. He added that it would make the first public disclosure of anything the police have learned about matters discussed at the Apalachin gathering of 58 gangsters, racketeers and others broken up by a police raid.

Milton Green, a Brooklyn and Coney Island coin machine operator, testified Wednesday he was ambushed and beaten with steel bars seven months ago for opposing a deal between an association of operators and Teamsters Union Local 266 of New York. He said the local is run by gangsters.

Previously Charles Lichtman, secretary of Local 245 of the United Coin Machine Workers Union in New York City, had told of threats, beatings, the sale of a union contract and other happenings in the fight for control of the coin machine industry in that area.

Man Cleared After 4 Trials For Murder

EL DORADO, Kan. (AP)—Warren Applegate is a free man after being tried four times on a charge of murdering his baby daughter.

An all-male District Court jury Wednesday found him innocent in the 1954 death of 16-months-old Dana Applegate. He had been charged with putting arsenic in a soft drink bottle and causing the child's death.

Applegate was convicted in his first trial, but won a new trial on appeal. The second and third trials ended in hung juries.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann: A few weeks ago my husband (age 40) took a woman from the office dancing. It was after someone opened a bottle to celebrate the arrival of a first-born son.

He told me about it the following day — said he was ashamed of himself and promised it wouldn't happen again.

This woman has called my husband on the phone three times since to ask questions about the office. I heard him tell her the matters could wait and never to bother him at home again.

Last week he brought home a package and said, "The screwball gave this to me. Please open it, honey." It was an album of mushy records. Attached was a note saying, "This could be US if you weren't such a coward." I handed him the note without saying a word.

He asked me to please drop her a line from US and say thanks for the records.

What shall I do? Do you think there's anything going on that I'm too dumb to see? Please advise me.—MYRTLE.

The note made it abundantly clear that there's nothing going on — which is what the hussy is complaining about. Furthermore, only a man with a crystal-clear conscience would have brought the gift home for his wife to open.

Since he asked that you say thanks from the family, by all means do so. Make sure the honey fairly drips from your pen and I can promise she'll pull in her net—for keeps.

Bitter With Better

Dear Ann Landers: I am 14 years old and it takes a lot of courage to write this letter.

I saw a gift in the store window I wanted to buy for my mother. It costs $4.50. I've been doing without hot lunches and saving my money to buy the present. I wanted to surprise her.

I saved $3.75 when my mother picked up my little black purse opened it. She asked me where I got all that money. Before I could say anything she said, "You can't give me an honest explanation, can you?"

I felt so bad I didn't answer. Now I don't know if I should save the rest and buy the present, or give her what I have and tell her the whole story.—E.O.

(P. S.: My grandmother was right. She used to say, "Money always brings trouble.")

Dear E.O.: Save the $4.50 as planned, buy the present, THEN tell your mother the whole story. Too bad some parents don't show more confidence in their children.

I have the feeling your mother may learn a valuable lesson from this incident. If we let others know we expect the best from them we usually get it. The same can be said for the worst.

Unvarnished Truth

Dear Ann Landers: I'm 20 and in love with a gal 18. She loves me very much but is not very demonstrative.

I'm a college student with no dough and a part-time job. I can't take her to fancy places, send gifts or put on the dog. The best I can manage is a movie once a week.

She used to be satisfied but last night she said she was fed up on not going anywhere and that we should call it quits. I know she still loves me but her social-climbing mother is putting ideas into her head. What do you suggest?—RANDY.

Dear Randy: That's love? She caught a pretty light case.

If the girl REALLY loved you she wouldn't be interested in fancy places and all that jazz. Accept the fact that the feeling is NOT mucilage and she doesn't wish to stick with you.

Confidentially

TO HURT: Forget it. You lived this long without Wedgewood dishes. Ben Franklin was right when he said, "If you want to know the true character of people, watch them divide an inheritance."

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Work Experience Data To Be Census Question

Information on the work experience of the nation's population during 1958 will be collected by means of special questions to be asked in the February Current population Survey, according to Supervisor Edward Bryan of the Census Bureau's regional office at Pittsburgh, which will participate in the survey.

The special questions will provide information on the number of persons who worked during the year, number of weeks worked, amount of time lost during the year because of unemployment and disability and related items. Information on farm wage workers will also be collected. This will show the number of persons who did farm work for cash wages in 1958.

The special questions on work experience will be in addition to the regular inquiries on employment and unemployment which are asked each month in 330 "sample" areas throughout the country. Information will be collected locally during next week.
